
Sandy —
I'm glad we became partners!
Me, you, and a team — let's keep that going Christy

Dear Sandy,
A great person and a great friend. I hope you get what you want out of life and strive for your goals.
Love,
Ken Axtell '77

Sandy:
Sandy, well,
you are very nice and kind person. and of course I am glad I got to know you this year. Have a lot of fun. ☺

Sandy, nice to read ya
hello man, you around once!

Sandy,
It's been fun having you in school this year. I really think that you could be smarter if you didn't party so much. Another thing don't chase guys so much. The way you do. You'll get them come to you. Keep looking enough to have fun. Hardly, enjoy your years in high school - they go by so quickly. Take it easy and good luck always

Dave '77

Sandy -
I'm glad I got to know you this year, this class has been a bummer but this school's all right, glad you're playing volleyball so I can see you this summer, you're a real fun person + I hope to get to know you better, I'm sure I'll see you some next year, good luck always

Jennifer Mills

Sandy,
I hope you have fun in your remaining years in high-school. Good luck in the years ahead. (and vote for me in the '96 elections)

Sandy,
I'm glad I got to know you this year but it's the start time I've known you it's had a lot of fun. You're a lot of fun stay your easy going self.

Much love,
Scott.

Fight songs, school songs, and popular songs are played during half time at football games. The Band is a significant activity for the school. Concerts, competitions, and participation in community affairs are other events in which the Viking Band performs.

Involvement

Student Body

Proves Vital For Activities

Expressions reflect how students feel about a football game at Atwood Stadium. Signs of discontent, frustration, dismay, are quite revelant of the faces of Northern students. Students turned out in a large number to see the Pontiac game against Northern. Students of all grades, sexes, and races mingle at extra curricular activities. These are pleasant times for students who spend time with friends and peers.

'76 Election Involves Students

Vikings See 1977 as New Beginning.

1977—a fresh, brand new year. 1976 was a hectic year that featured America's Bicentennial, the election of a new president, and a new bussing program was witnessed at Northern and throughout the Flint area.

The good ol' U.S. of A. celebrated its 200th birthday, which seemed to give the whole country an ambition of eagerly beginning the next 200.

Jimmy Carter beat out Gerald Ford in the seat for president and a new president might also give the country a new outlook.

And a brand new program that busses students from various schools was introduced to Flint in 1976. It became known as the exchange program and was carried out in an effort to help each individual's needs. Every high school was converted into a school in which basic, major topics were taught. For example, Northern was made into a predominent math and science center, so those students who wanted to expand themselves in these subjects were to be given the best chance to do so here.

But now that 1976 is the past and 1977 is the present, it has become a year of fresh development and has, like all years, offered new fads. Young men and women are wearing their hair shorter, and the ladies seem to be turning from jeans to dresses.

Overall, 1977 has become a year of bright prospects and this idea had been reflected at Northern.

A crowd of supporters turn out to see Jimmy Carter at a campaign stop in Flint during the primary. That wasn't the last Flint saw of the Democratic candidate. On the eve of the election there was a final rally for Carter at the IMA auditorium. This year more than any other involved Northern students. More students participated in rallies, door to door campaigning, and the largest per-cent ever of 18 year old students registered to vote. The final outcome of the election pleased some and brought a feeling of defeat for others. Whether their candidate won or lost, each student who involved himself in the election should feel proud that he did something to change the attitude that young people don't care about their government.

Northern Pride Shown Through Viking Spirit

LEFT: At a pep assembly, the two city trophies awarded to the school that has accumulated the most points in all areas of girls' and boys' sports are shown to the crowd before being placed in our showcase. Mr. Veenhuis admires the boys' trophy, left, and the girls' trophy, right. They represent both team's accomplishments for the 1975-1976 year. BELOW: Summer is a time of many activities for many studnets. A part of those activities include traveling. Whether it is around the block or around the world. Traveling offers a wide variety of learning experiences. Leaving for a trip are Arnette Callaway, right, and Pamela Jefferson, left. These students decided to fly, but whatever form of transportation you decide to take, it's bound to be enjoyable and fun. LOWER LEFT: The Gettysburg Field Trip was one of the many field trips offered to Northern students this year. The trip was an historicat one dealing with the time period around the Civil War. Cam Short, left, and Nancy Nicholas, right, discuss the museum they have just seen. The trip was very interesting and educational for the students that attended.

Vikings Active Around School

LEFT: Surrounded by drums, Chris Lamb practices with Northern's Stage (Jazz) Band. The band, which has been playing for the past seven years under the direction of band leader Mr. Ronald Shoup, is both a stage (concert) and a competitive band. BELOW: Students surround a pensive Vickie Newman as they loiter about the band room talking to friends or eating candy purchased from Papa Shoup's Candy shop. The students gather in the band room after school and before various school activites.

This year has been one full of political spirit and elections. Molly Baird, a sophomore here at Northern, is not only involved in school activities, but political campaigning, too. Molly takes time out from her busy schedule to take a picture with President-elect Jimmy Carter's son, Jeff Carter. Molly must be happy knowing that her candidate won after all of her hard work during the campaign. This picture was taken in the spring when Jimmy Carter visited Michigan. How do you think you would feel knowing you met and had a picture taken with the President-elect's son? Molly was most likely at the IMA when Jimmy Carter came to Flint in the fall.

Campaigns, Lectures Helpful

Baseball Team Shows Improvement

The four men who batted over .400 for the season gave Northern one of the most potent batting orders in 1976 high school baseball circles were Tom Wylie .457; Don Durrett .423; Marlon Barnett .419; and Randy Churchill .400.

All members of the 1976 infield returned in 1977—Barnett, Churchill, Lane, and Bob Wylie. Tom Laurin, Russ Hall and Tim Pendell, outstanding sophomores replaced graduating seniors Don Durrett, William Jackson and William Scullark.

Northern had only 3 seniors in the 1977 starting line up—but as expected this was another exciting season.

There were some years that the Northern's baseball team was short of talent at some positions. However, the teams always made up for any lack of ability by playing a spiritual, exciting brand if disciplined baseball.

They were always known as the—"Viking Baseball Team comes to play."

J.V.'s Are Consistent

The 1976 J.V. Baseball Squad ended its season with a consistent 12 and 10 won-loss record. They outscored their opponents overall by a 141-96 margin and averaged a two run lead for every game. Scores ranged from an 18-11 win to 1-0 loss. All games were double-headers and the team ended at 5-3 against city teams. Coach Ken Fowler, no longer at Northern, never allowed his Vikings to lose more than two in a row throughout the entire season.

Rick Vargas headed the pitching staff with a 5 and 1 won-loss record and Duane Hosler's 2.78 E.R.A. was lowest in that category.

Two new records went into Northern's books as Jeff Collins scored 24 runs and Tim Pendell rapped out 31 hits.

After playing only 12 games on the J.V. squad before being moved up to Varsity, sophomore Tom Laurin's 4 homeruns, 20 runs batted in and .395 batting average held up to lead the team in the three major batting categories.

Viking Basketball Continues Success

The Varsity basketball team has continued this year, like other years, with great success. They were rated throughout the season in the top 15 in the state. Mr. William Troesken, coach of the team, has been very pleased with the season, considering they had only one returning starter, Ricky Dent. "The young juniors have been a pleasant surprise," he commented. Other starters included Senior Larry Johnson, and Juniors Gary Poole, Craig Tucker, Curtis Carrol, and John Chapman. Mr. Troesken says that the lack of size and experience in these players caused some problems, but tremendous hustle and desire allowed the Vikings to have a very successful campaign. At one point, early in the season, they pulled off six consecutive victories, which was one highlight of the season. But one victory that may well be more remembered than any is when Northern virtually blew NW out of their own gym, 72-47, in what was supposed to be a "close" game.

In late February, Northern hosted the State District Tournament with NW, Central, Flushing, Clio, and our own Vikings.

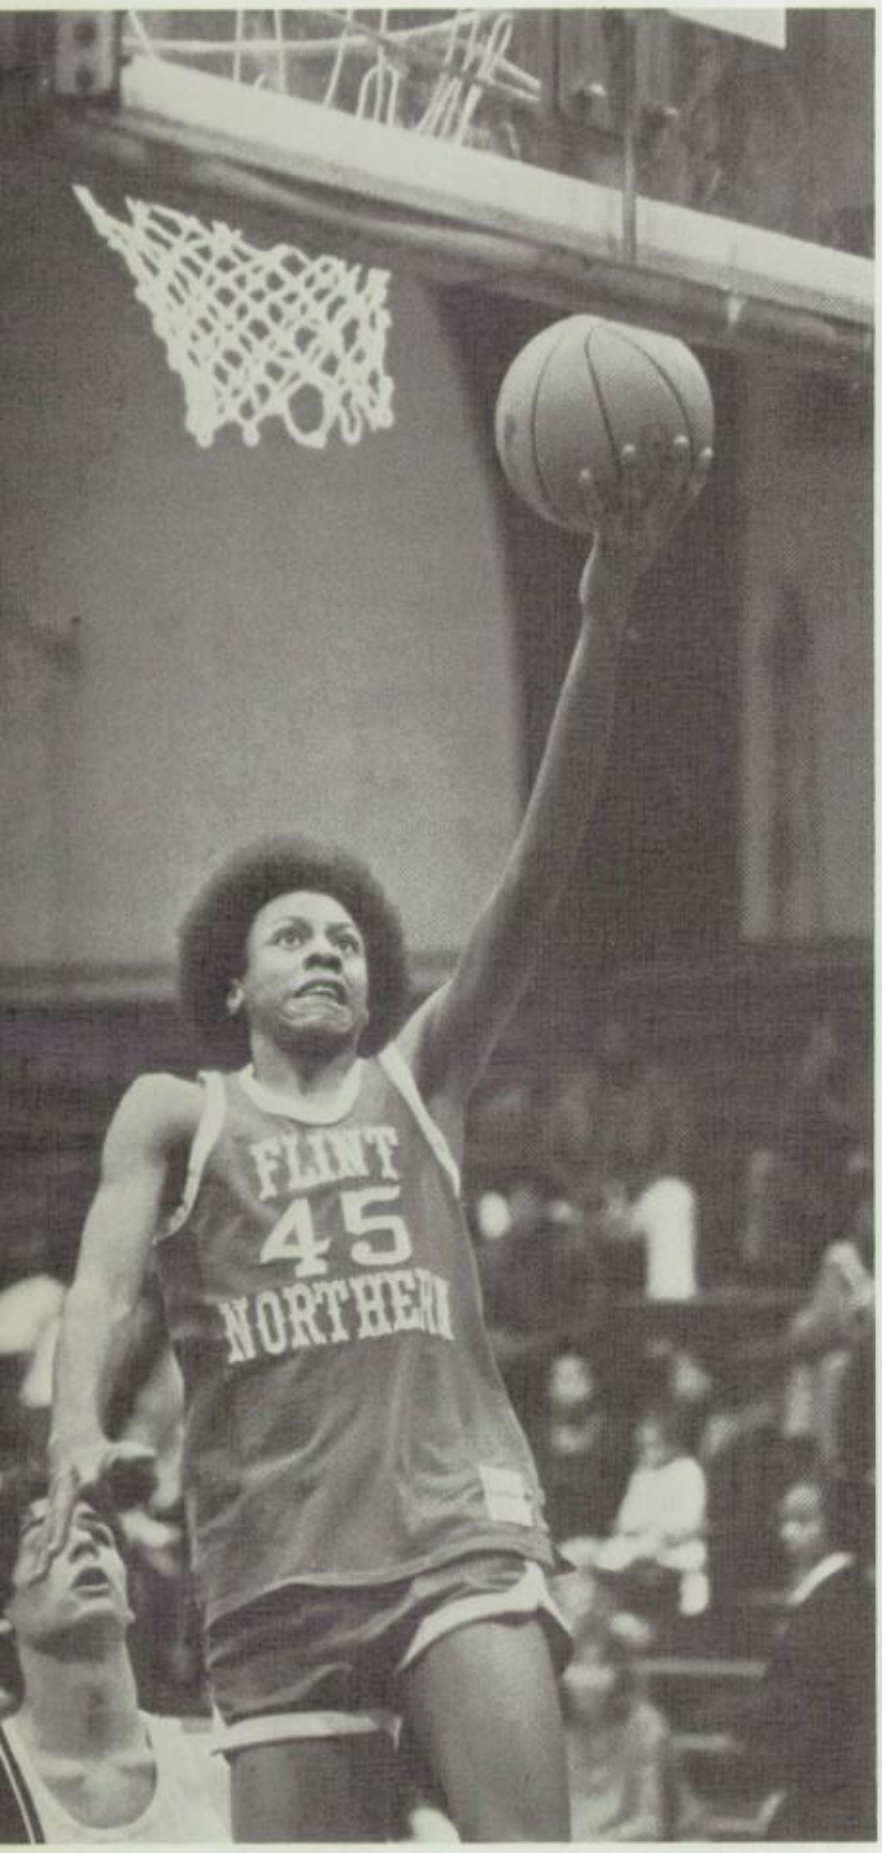
J.V. Basketball Team Has Fine Season



The 1976-1977 J.V. basketball team had another fine season with an .800 pct. throughout the season. Mr. Dave Jacobs, coach of the team, says his ultimate goal is to take first place in both the city series and the Saginaw Valley West standings.

Kent Smith and Rondle Johnson have led the J.V. team in both scoring and rebounding, and according to Mr. Jacobs, they have also been tops in terms of leadership. These J.V. players should give next year's varsity team the highest of hopes.

Girls' Basketball A Growing Success

The Girls' Varsity basketball team could be considered a growing success. It was not too long ago when girls' basketball was considered only secondhand to boys', but is now a stiff competitor.

Coached by Miss Dorothy Kukulka, the team ended with a 13 and 6 record. In addition to a fine overall team, there were many individual commendations. For the first time in the city of Flint a Saginaw Valley first and second team were selected along with an honorable mention. Senior Cynthia Duncan was selected on the first team while the second team included sophomore Theresa Anthony. Polly Lenear, Joann Creamer, and Kimberly Tartt received honorable mention.

Miss Kukulka said that the mai purpose as a coach was to motivate to teach, each individual the basi fundamentals, teamwork, self discipline, techniques, attitude behavior, and self-motivation "Success is the peace of mind o knowing that each has done the bes they could to become the best tha they are capable of becoming."

The basketball team will be losin five players this season, but both the J.V. and Varsity teams will b strong in the forthcoming seaso with the returning players and lette winners.

Girls' J.V. Go 11-5

The Girls' J. V. Basketball team wound up their season with an impressive 11-5 record. Coach Clyde Bell said that the games they did lose were because of their own mistakes. Mr. Bell's goal this year was to go undefeated as he did two years ago, but sums the season as an outstanding one.

In his third year as coach, Mr. Bell continually stresses the importance of teamwork and says that this year's team did learn to play together when times got hard.

Though not going undefeated, the team did end with the City Championship.

Cross Country Is City-Valley Champs

The 1976 Cross Country team ended an outstanding season as City-Valley champions. Coach Norm Badar stated that these young men deserve special recognition because of their inexperience. Mr. Badar added that in 26 years of coaching, there have been only three other Northern Cross Country teams with better seasons.

Co-captain Anthony Sullivan led the squad all year as he never lost a race to his teammates and won five of seven races in dual meet competition. He also was a solid performer in all of the championship races. Joe Wooten, in his final year, nailed down the number two position on the team, and only his inexperience kept him from surpassing an already fine season. Sophomore Dan Fowler made his mark early by setting a sophomore home course record at Mott Park golf course and throughout the season he improved upon it three times. Co-captain Bruce Towar and Bryan Dent rounded out the top five.

Team depth and teamwork helped to make 1976 a superb year for the Cross Country team and 1977 promises to look bright with a number of undergrads showing excellent potential and with continued dedication they possibly can really come into their own in the future.

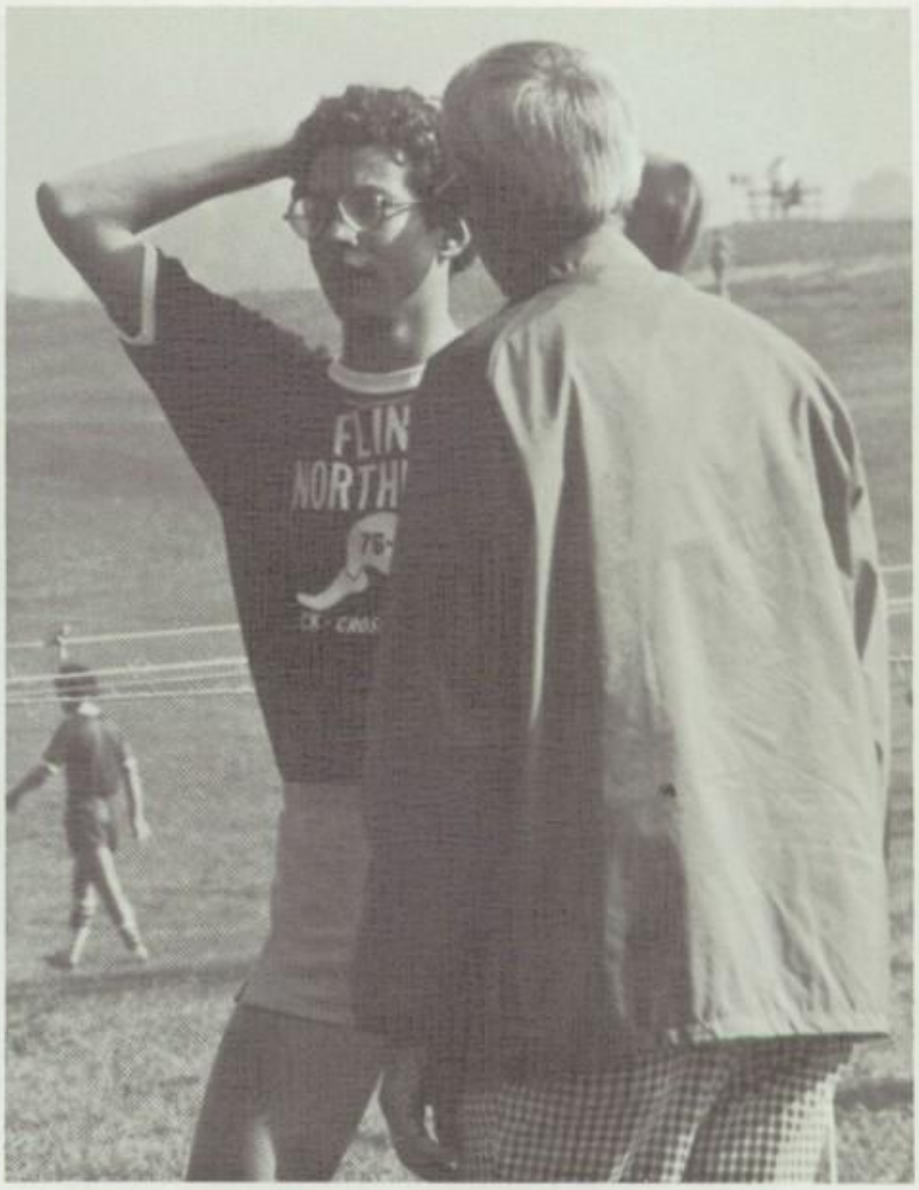
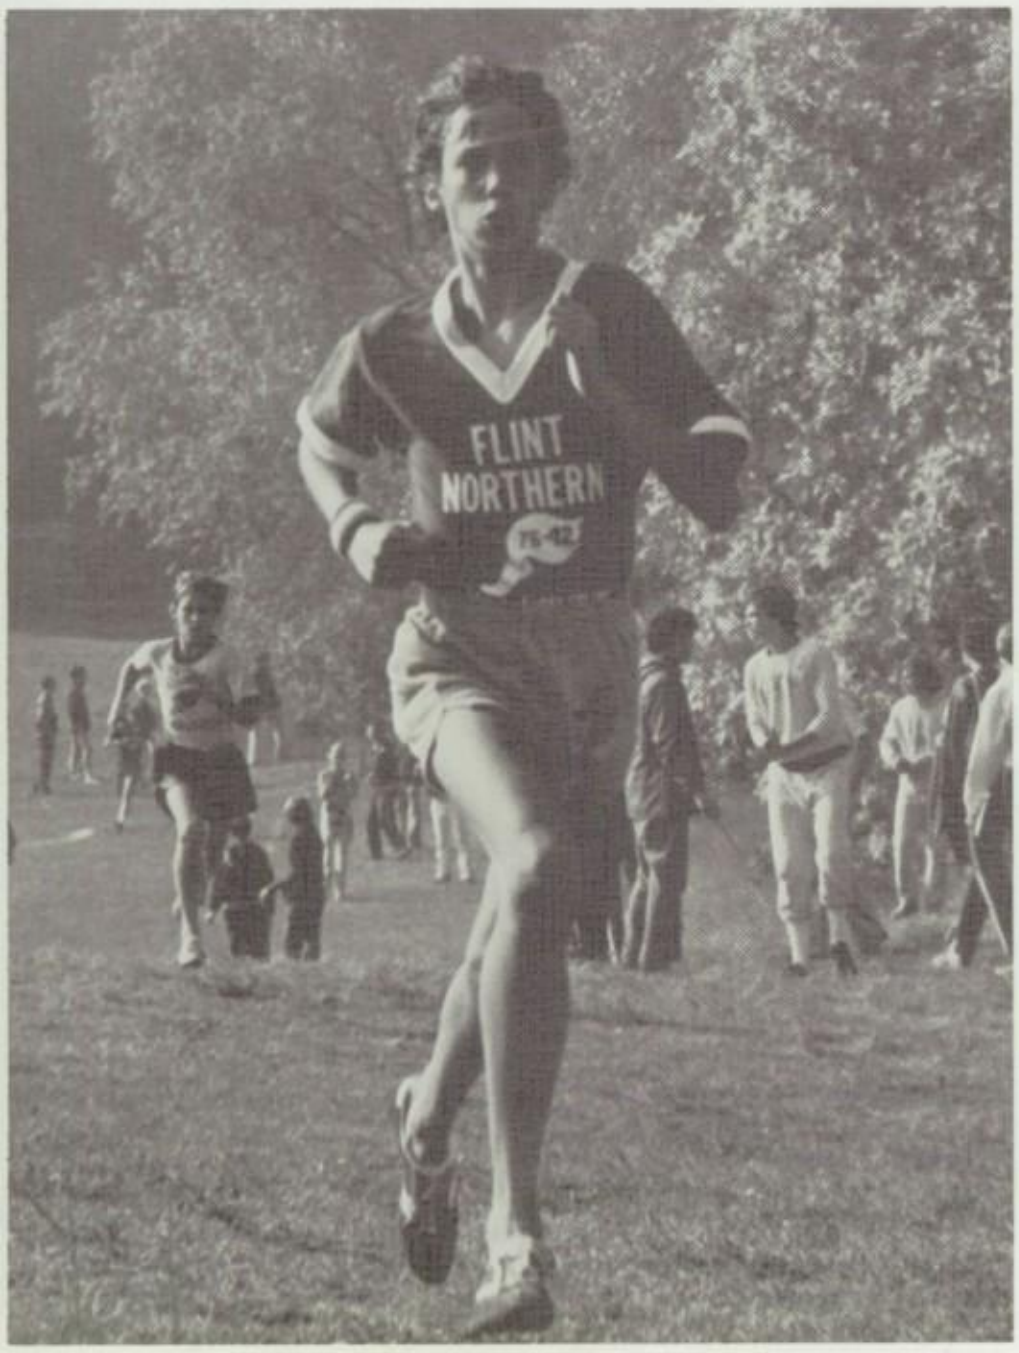
Strain, Speed shown in Race

Anthony Sullivan, Northern's number one Harrier this season, had to keep an eye out for police to avoid getting speeding tickets. Efrem Channel shows the strain of a hard race as he heads for the finish line. He was the Viking's sixth man most of the season.

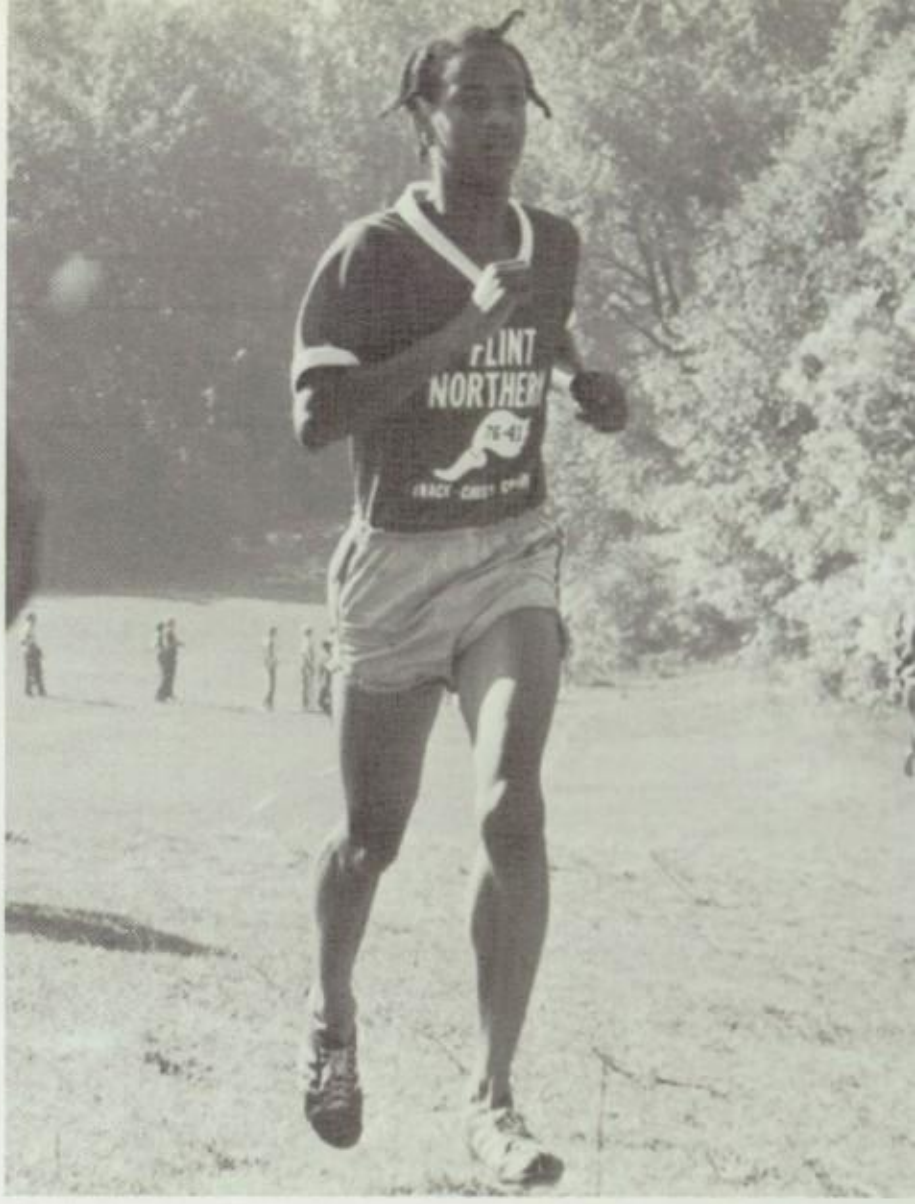
Joe Wooten, Dan Fowler, Bruce Towar, Bryan Dent and Efrem Channel stick close together during a race at Mott Park. Grouping like this was a key factor in the surprising success enjoyed by the Cross Country team this year.



Coach Badar analyzes a race with co-captain Bruce Towar. A veteran of 26 years of coaching, Mr. Badar helps each runner individually to improve his race as well as working with the team as a whole. Monsanto Love strides out at the finish.



Dan Fowler, the Viking's sophomore record-setter, shows determination as he races for the finish line. Dan showed promise in his first Cross Country race and by the end of the season secured the number three spot on the Varsity Team.



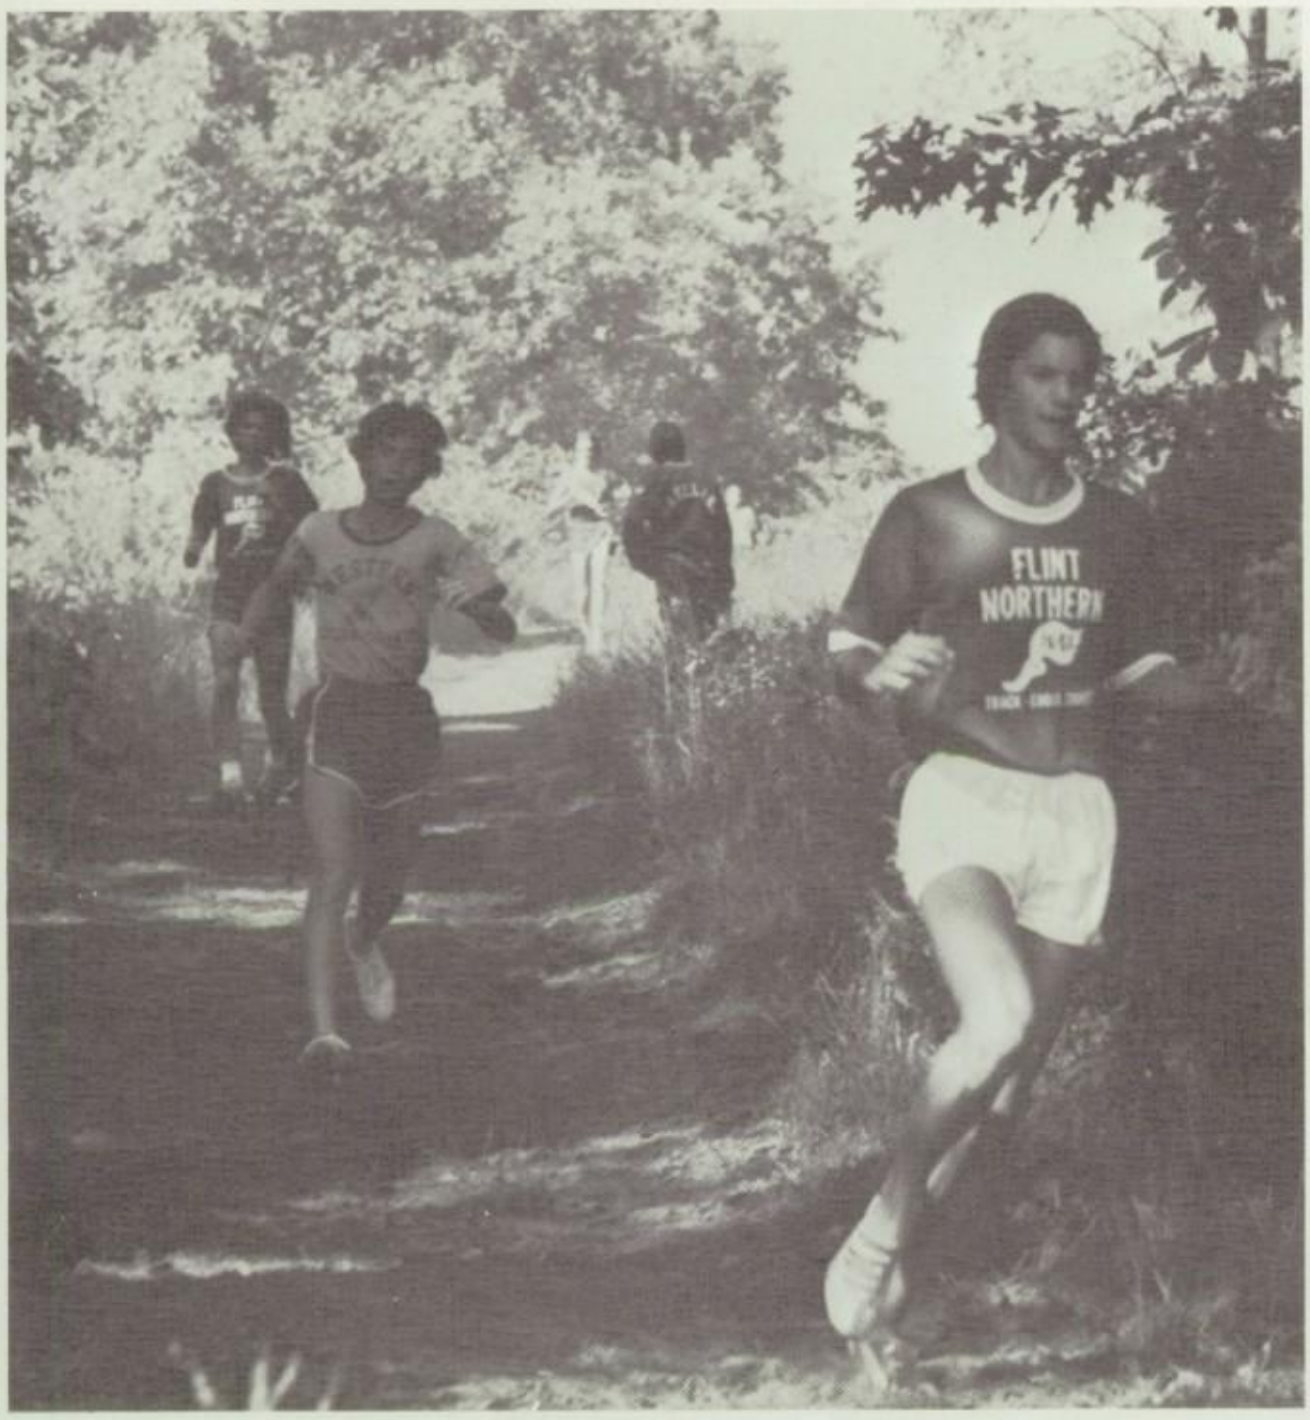
Carl Torrey leads the way. Carl got of to a slow start but with steady improvement throughout the season he became the number one Junior Varsity runner in later meets. Uncontested, Ed Hamlett heads uphill toward the finish line. An early starter, Ed had more experience by mid-season than most J.V. runners but an injury slowed him down and eventually put him out of competition in the last few meets.

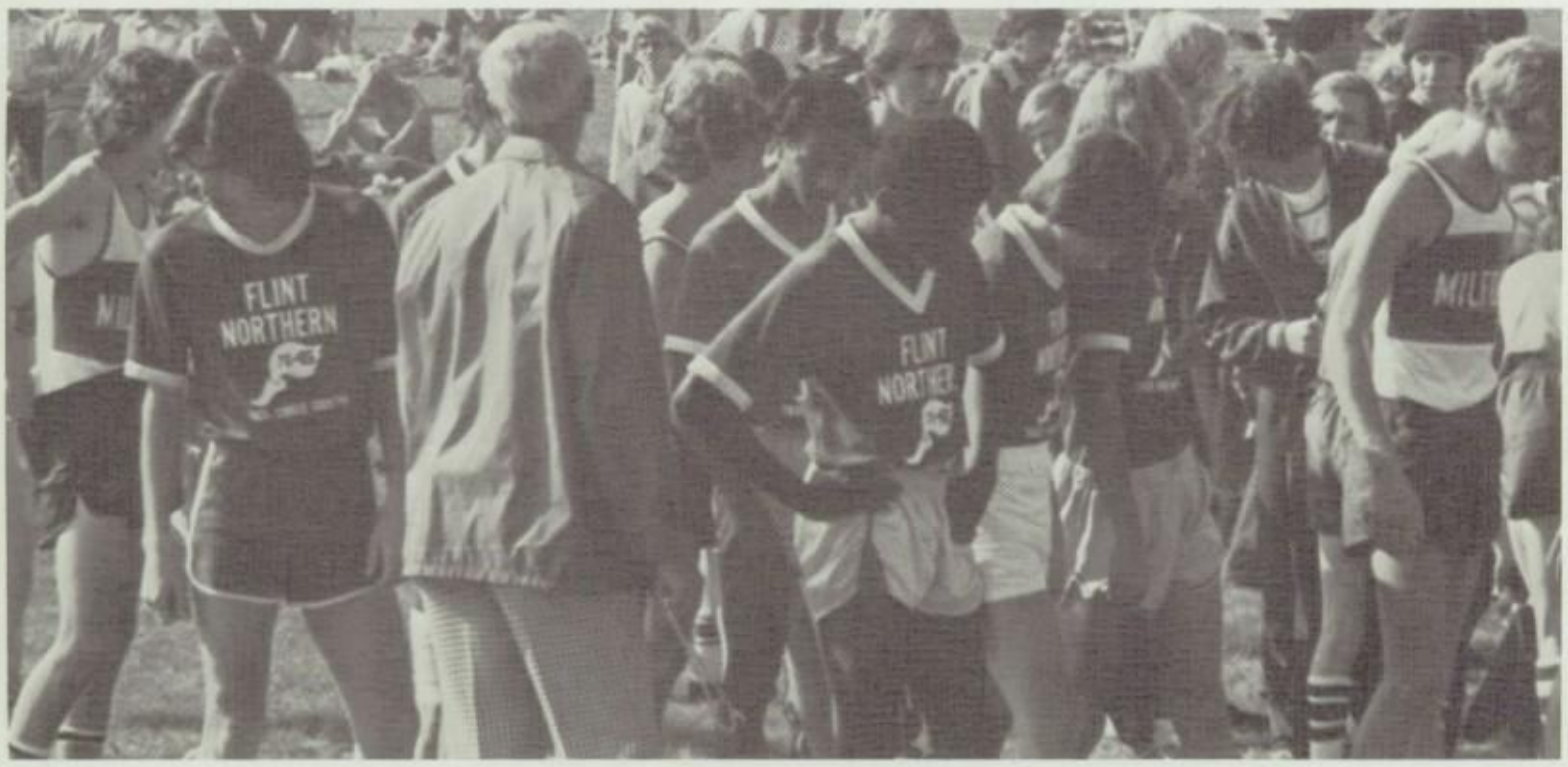
'76 Season Undefeated For J.V.'s

The 1976 J.V. Cross Country team completed one of the most successful seasons in Northern's history, according to coach Norb Badar. They went undefeated and took city and valley titles. Mr. Badar said that watching these young men mature both physically and mentally and seeing them reach their full potential is very rewarding as a coach.

Daniel Fowler and Mosanto Love, both varsity members who were able to compete because they were sophomores, helped the team take a third place finish at the Sophomore Invitational in Bay City. With Fowler and Love running varsity most of the season, the top J.V. runners included Carl Torrey, Keith Harrison, Randy Hobson, Patrick Blakely, Gerald Camilli, James Rock, and Steve Thomason.

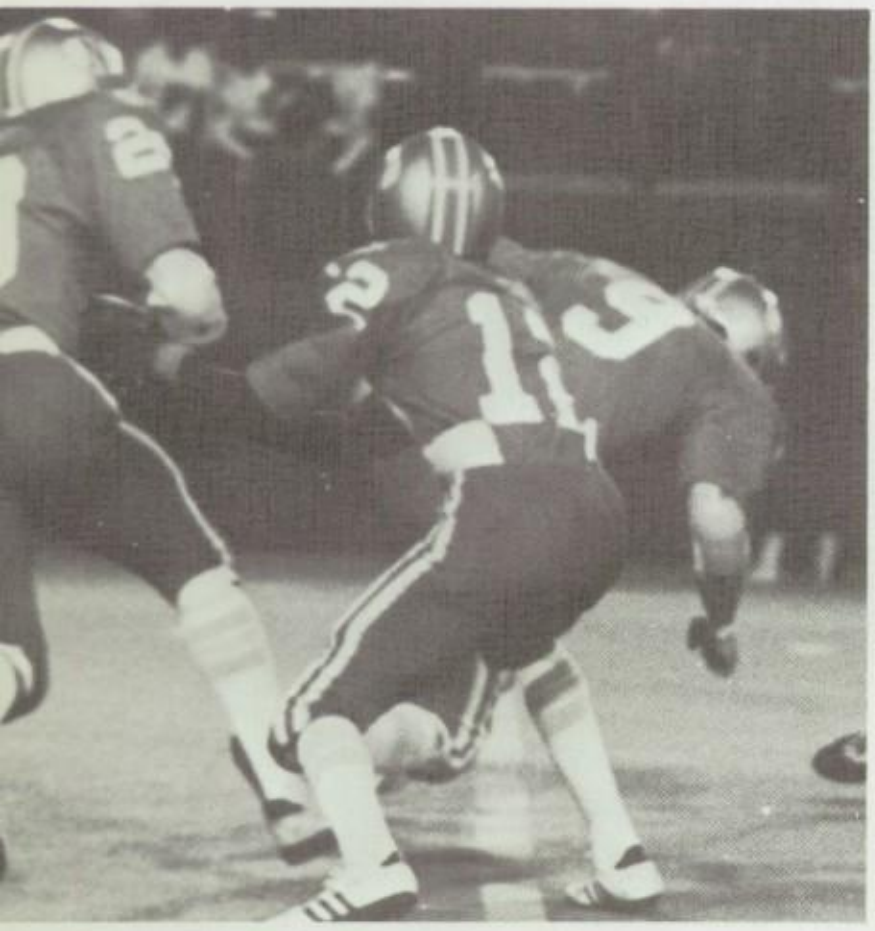
Mr. Badar concludes that these young men showed great promise and dedication and should really help the varsity squad next season.





Gerry Camilli chases Tom Saxton down the hill at the Lakeland Invitational Meet. Gerry began running when the season was already under way but determination and consistent improvement made up for his lack of experience. An early season injury slowed Saxton down but by the end of the season he was in top form. Mr. Badar gives instructions to Gerry Camilli, Tom Saxton, Ed Hamlett, Patrick Blakley, Carl Torrey and Keith Harrison.

Varsity Squad Fights For Victories



The Varsity Football Team, coached by Mr. Randy Johnson, ended the season with a 3-6 record but could very well have ended at 6-3, according to Mr. Johnson.

The team fell short in the last quarter of three games when they were on the three yard line. An extra point failure against Flint Central in the last Thanksgiving game lost that one, which means with ten more yards of offense, their record would have been reversed.

The four captains were Marlon Barnett, Michael Simpson, Randy Churchill, and Eddie Bailey. Players which made the all-valley all-city teams were Danny Green, Marlon Barnett, and Michael Simpson.

There were also many awards among the players. They are as follows: Most Valuable Player—Marlon Barnett, Most Improved—Michael Ivory and Jeff Keener, Leadership Award—Michael Simpson and Danny Green, Optimist Award-Randy Churchill, Spirit Award-William Ryan, Defense Award-Leandrew "Mississippi" Lloyd, Outstanding Junior Award-Daryl Dilworth and the Most Valuable Lineman Award went to Eddie Bailey.

Despite Disappointing Season, Team Gains Experience

The 1976 J.V. Football team, coached by Mr. Gordon Brown, ended with an 0-8-1 record. Most of the season was a learning process and a chance to gain experience.

Despite a disappointing season, 38 players stayed out for the team to the finish. Most of the games were lost because of bad ball control, which included numerous fumbles and interceptions. But the main purpose of the team was to gain the experience needed for next year and to enjoy a competetive environment.

Varsity Golf Takes Valley West Title

The 1976 golf team, coached by Mr. Jim Polites, finished their season with a 10 and 8 win-loss record. They took a first in the Central Valley Bestball and tied for first in the Valley West, thus making them valley champions. They also took a third in the city and a thirteenth in the Alma Invitational. This success was due mainly because of their fine 87.8 average.

Varsity letter winners included: first year—Del Hogan and Brian Doty, and second year—Scott Ashurst, Scott Southwell, Vince Pastue, John Laureto, and Michael Guzak.

Looking back at the scoreboard one would find that the teams suffered many close losses and could well have ended with a much better record. And with all the varsity letter winners returning for the 1977 season, the team could prove to be an awesome contender.

Skaters Take City

The hockey team ended with only a 2-9-1 record, but the two wins were big ones. It was supposed to be a rebuilding season, but instead the team beat defending champions Southwestern and rival Central to take the city crown. They also lost many close games.

Seven seniors will be gone next year, including high-scorer Fernando Narcio, defensive star Don Maybank, and captain Kelly McKenzie, but the squad should be very strong with thirteen returning lettermen. Goalies will include Mark Tibbets and Jim Wylie; defensive stand-outs Dennis Canaday and Mark Taylor; and forwards Randy Hobson, Paul Racette, and Bob Wylie.

New coach Martin Siegel had a successful debut and should improve the team's record next season.

Softball Team Shares City Title

Although ending with a 2-9 record, the girls' softball team was much more improved than the previous year's debut team at Northern, according to Coach Betty Kujala. There were many close losses and many well played games which may prove to have been a sign of improvement. Senior Judy Kelly was the team's most valuable player as she led the team in homeruns, runs batted in, and batting average. Most improved players were juniors Jackie Johnson and Donna Phillips.

Miss Kujala commented that the best game they played was a predistrict game against Northwestern, in which much experience was gained as all the girls had an opportunity to contribute, despite an 8-7 loss.

They look forward to bigger and brighter things in the 1977 season.

Guys Swim Team Strive To Be Perfect

This year's boys' swim team swam the season with over a .500 mark most of the entire season. Led by co-captains Scott Ashurst and Dave Casadonte, the team never lacked talent. Consisting of only 15 members, the team was made up mostly of seniors. Mr. Toporski, coach of the team, had the team on a hot streak, winning six of seven since the Christmas break.

Dave Casadonte, one of the better all-around swimmers, broke the 200 Individual Medley record held since 1967 with a time of 2:16:1. Scott Ashurst, considered to be one of the best breaststrokers in the area, once did "his thing" in a time of 1:07:6. Brian Revis is working toward a new team mark in the 500 freestyle. Other top performers include Dan and Don Mikolaizik, Robert Alfaro, Larry Coleman, Eugene Marve, Scott Price, Scott Thurston, Dan Lamb, Rodney Lewis, Marty Price and Brian Schiezka.

Girls' Swim Team Takes Second In City

The Girls' Swim Team held together through the '76 season, despite injuries to many of the swimmers and divers. Cheryl Meek, Debbie Laureto, Martha Morrissey, Artith Bullock, Carrie Felisky, Kathy Mucha, and Julie McKenzie were just a few to suffer some sort of injury. Carrie Felisky managed to stay undefeated in diving, though she had her finger in a splint.

Mrs. Marge Dennis coached the girls through this trying season and many rewards were present at the outcome. In the city meet, Northern took a second, beating out Central and Southwestern. Carrie Felisky set a new city record in diving with 189 points. Julie McKenzie broke the varsity record for backstroke and 200 individual medley. Debbie Orr also broke a varsity record for the 100 freestyle.

Carrie Felisky, now a senior, swam with the boys' team in her sophomore year and the girls' team the next two years. She received a letter in her first year, thus receiving a three-year letter trophy her senior year.

Tennis Team Goes Six And Six

The Boy's Varsity Tennis Team, with a season record of six wins and six losses, took second in the City, second in the Valley, and third in the Regionals with Grand Blanc winning by three points.

This year's team members were young with only two returning lettermen, Steve Heitzner and Jeff Fowler. Both of these players were ranked in the Saginaw Valley Area. Steve was also the Regional Singles winner. There are two young ladies who felt it was more competitive to be on the male varsity team. They were Debbie Bland and Diane Bland, twins. They felt the learning experience and challenges will be far greater on this team.

A new court decision, Title Nine, made this possible for them to play on the boys tennis team. It is a non-contact sport.

Practice Makes Good

The girls' tennis team, coached by Mr. Randy Thompson, took first place in the city in the 1976 campaign. They also took second place in the valley and ended a successful season with an 8-6 record.

In his sixth year as a coach, Mr. Thompson stresses sportsmanship, self-discipline, and team effort from all his teams.

Many individual awards were received. Darlene Massar was voted most valuable, Sue Miller most improved, and Vicki Skutt received the most hustle and spirit award.

Mr. Thompson was somewhat surprised by the outcome of the season as he stated that he really didn't expect the sophomores with their inexperience to do as well as they did. They also got fine performances from the five seniors on the team. The biggest surprise, perhaps, says Mr. Thompson, was when senior Sue Miller defeated the number one seeded player from Midland High at the Regionals.

Next season's team looks very promising as many of the undergrads had fine seasons and gained the experience needed.

Track Team Takes State Title

On June 5, 1976, Northern's track team won the state meet in Grand Rapids with a respectable 44 points.

Throughout the entire season, they took no less than a third in any one meet.

Coach Norb Badar had stated earlier in the season that these were the best overall trackmen he had ever seen at Northern and not more than a month later they took the state championship.

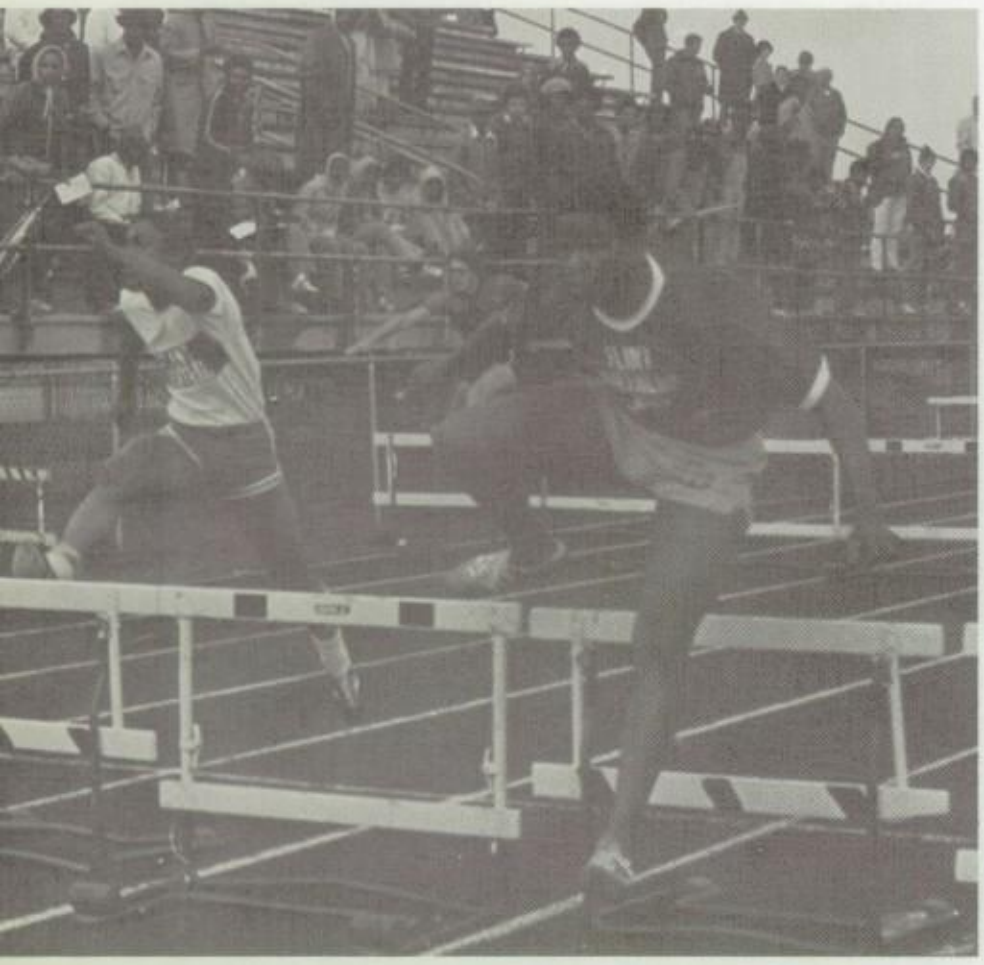
Instead of wishing the track team a better 1977 season, as they cannot possibly get any better, Northern only wishes to say, "Keep up the good work!"

Team work is what really produces a winning team for the Vikings. Here Mr. Badar is talking with Northern Trackmen, perhaps they are discussing the meet ahead or maybe just helping them build their confidence in themselves. Track takes more than physical ability, but also emotional ability and Mr. Badar expressed that feeling. They were always out there practicing, neither snow, rain, or sleet could hol them back. Trackmen need to be physically as well as mentally fit t face a track meet in good shape. Coach Badar over his past 21 season has taught them physical as well as mental strength.

Here James Allen is running with the baton in a relay at Northwestern. Northern relay teams were very good and James Allen was one of the reasons why. He had good speed and paced himself well. The person who is up and over the jump bar is Don Hart, who hardly ever missed. He has cleared 6-2.

Richard MacInnes is pictured here winning the 880 in the city meet. He also won the 880 in the State Meet and also kept the string of victories going in that event for the track team at three following the shadow of Keith Young, who did it in his junior and senior years.

Greg Laue is putting the shot. He was consistent in shot putting over 50 feet and he added the success of the team. Pictured in the low hurdles is Chris Lathon leading his Central opponent. He also was a high hurdler and high jumper.



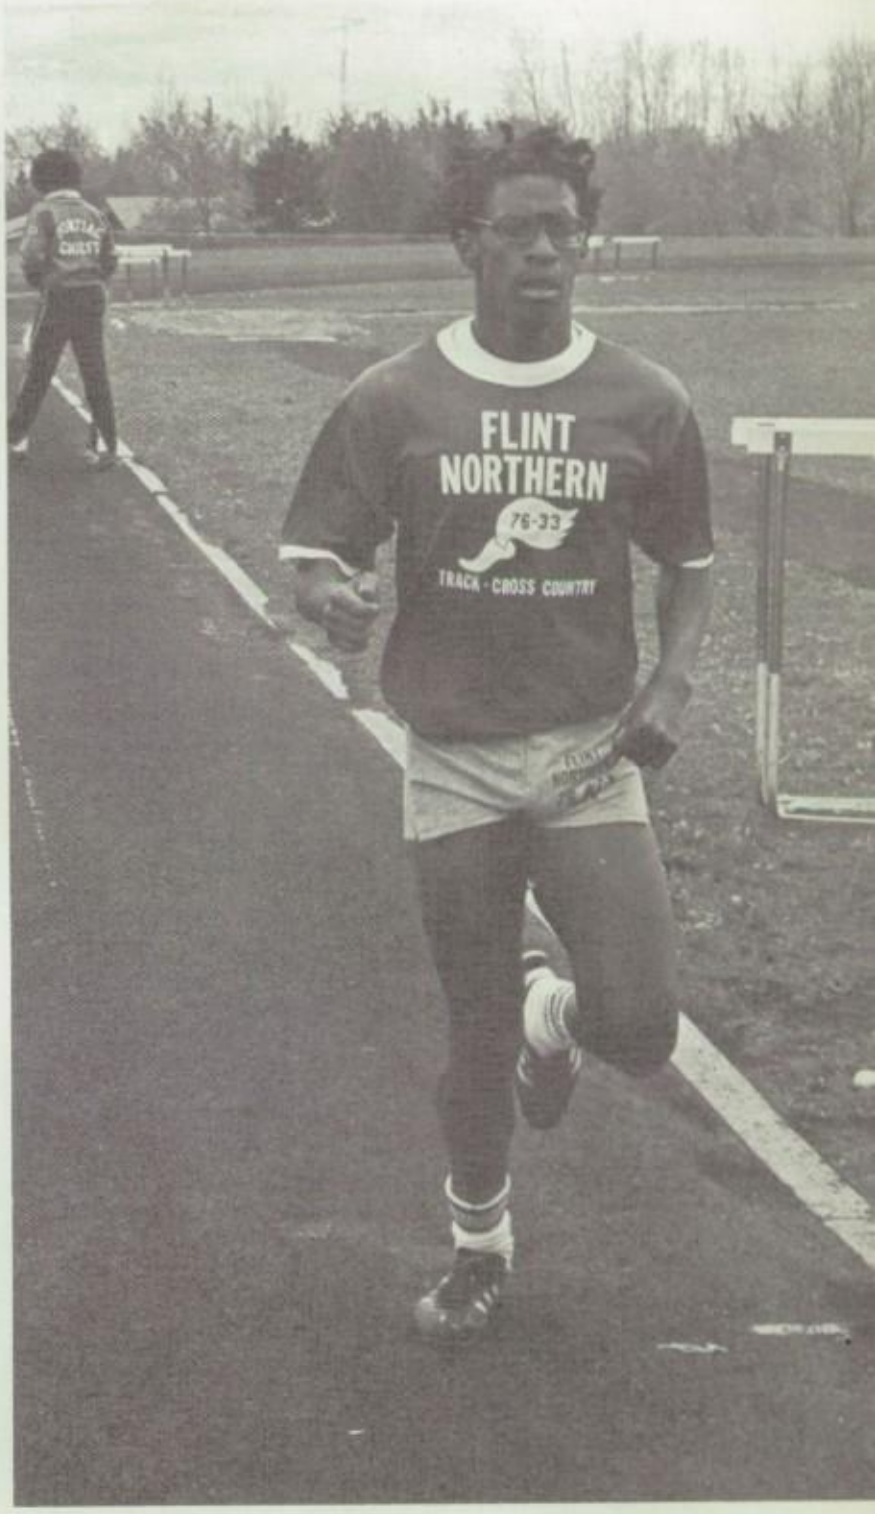
As a sophomore, Michael Miller won the 100 yard dash in the city mee as shown. He also won the 220 in the state meet and came in second i the 100. He was an asset to the depth and balance of the State Champ ionship won by Northern.

J. V. Trackmen Get Experience

The 1976 Track Team was said by Coach Norb Badar to be one of the finest squads he had ever seen at Northern. This statement was made one month before that very same team took the state championship.

Many individual efforts were responsbile for this success throughout the season. Calvin McQueen set a record in the two mile run and also took a second in the Huron relays. Donald Hart set a new meet record at West Bloomfield in the high jump at 6'2". He came back to win the Mott relays with his jumping partner Chris Lathon. Hart had the meet's best jump at 6'4". Michael Miller won meet after meet with his fine sprinting ability. His best time in the 100 was 9.7, only two-tenths of a second away from the school record, and being only a junior this year he just may wind up with the record yet. The 440 relay team set a school record with a time of 43.0. The team consisted of Dana Daniels, Charles Davis, Charles Hart, and Edward Taylor. The 880 relay team also set a new school record with a time of 1:27.7. This team was made up of Danny Greene, Michael Miller, James Allen, and Charles Davis.

Instead of wishing the track team a better 1977 season, as they cannot get any better, Northern only wishes the track team an identically fine season.



Here Jack McNeely, top right, is getting ready for the coming meet and is probably getting the experience in preparing for the varsity team. Kevin Collins takes a try at his specialty, the long jump. He also should have a chance as a varsity trackman in the fall.

Girls Sprint, Too

Track is a sport which has been thought of, as have most sports, as being associated with men rather than women, but today's woman is competing and excelling in the sports world as well as in other fields, and track is no exception.

Girl's track here at Northern has grown stronger every year and the 1976 team was no exception. Mr. Scott Soath coached and led the team to a final record of 5 wins and 4 losses. They also took a fourth in the Lakeville Invitational and a tenth in the valley.

The team consisted of almost all sophomores with only one junior and one senior. Evelyn Johnson was voted the most valuable player with Margaret Hemmert as most improved.

The 1977 team promises to be one of the best girl's track squads produced by Northern in many years.

Volleyball Team Young, Yet Good

This year's girls' varsity volleyball team was composed solely of juniors with one sophomore and was led by co-captains Joann Creamer and Natalie Johnson. Mrs. Margaret Johnson admits that the team is lacking in experience, but certainly made up for that with desire and talent. She said that the team's short range goals included improving basic skills so that every play is a bump, set, and spike. Their long range goals, she added, are to set high and straight for the number one spot.

Girls' J.V. Volleyball Team "Builds"

The girls' J.V. volleyball team is n a "building" year, says Miss Beth Major, coach of the team. She adds nat experience is limited and it is er objective to teach, develop, and nstill the best possible techniques f volleyball in each player.

Co-captains of the team are Lor-a Woods and Ronnie Brown, and ney, along with the other team nembers, are in high hopes of giv-ng the Viking volleyballers another ne season.

In only it's second year, the girls' .V. volleyball team is in a "build-ng" year, says Miss Beth Majors, new coach of the team. She adds that experience is limited and it is her objective to teach, develop, and instill the best possible techniques of volleyball in each individual.

Volleyball, being a relatively new sport in the high school scene, has spread rapidly and gained much new interest.

Though ending only 2-14, the team did have a few standouts. Co-captains Lorita and Ronie Brown, along with the other team members are in hopes of giving the Viking volleyballers a fine season next year.

Sports An Important Factor At Northern

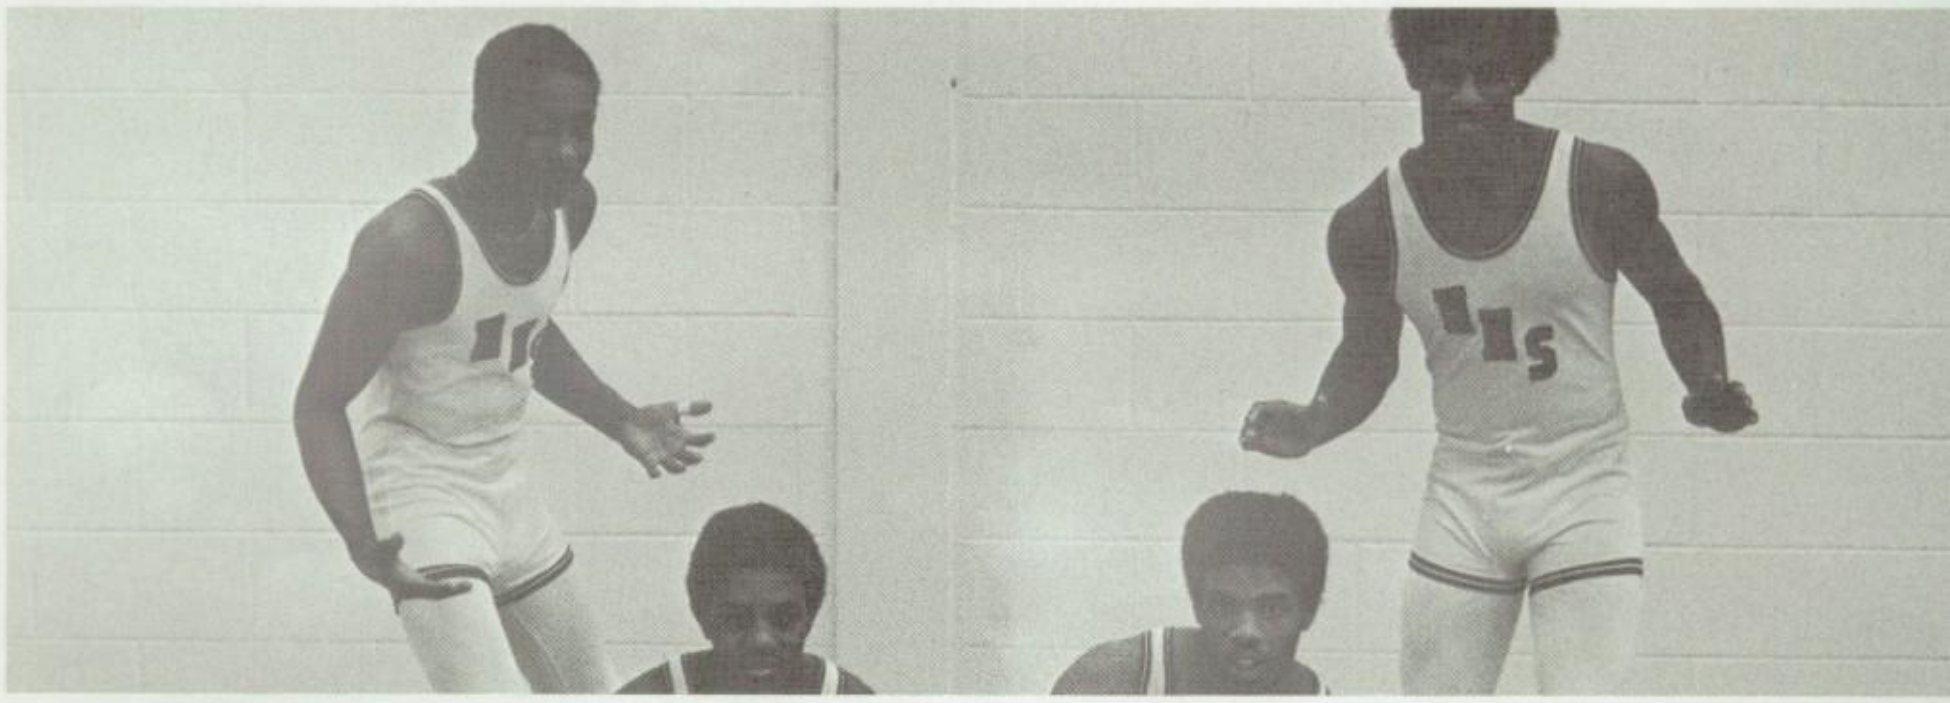
Wrestlers' Season Turns Out OK



Flint Northern's Varsity wrestling squad ended up with a 5-7 record, which Coach Bill Viverette called "O.K.," considering it was a rebuilding year and three of the higher weight classes were missed. Because of this ommission, the team was forced to give up anywhere from eighteen to twenty-four points a meet. But this was made up by pinning everyone in the strong lower weight class.

At the Owosso Invitational, they started their season with a third place in the first team dual meet Northern has ever been in, which was unexpected. The rest of the year, they had to depend mainl on individual performances fro their season veterans Lewellyn Wi son and Anthony Sullivan, wh placed in a number of tough tou naments. Clarence Wilson, Kevi Wilson, and Greg Veal, all sopho mores, gained a lot of experienc that Mr. Vivereete says should pa off next year. Daryl Dilworth, An thony "Jake" Ewing, Jack McNeely and Barry Green were the stron junior part of the squad.

What will be needed next yea is to recruit students in the highe weight classes from 155 lbs. to heavy weight.

J.V. Wrestlers Improve

The J.V. wrestlers had a so-so 2-3 record, considering they never did have a full lineup during the season. Mr. Stanford Stableford called it a "dismal" year, as he has seen much better, but feels they could have gone undefeated if there were enough wrestlers to fill up the team.

Outstanding performers were sophomores Antoine Anderson and Everette Davis. Other strong performers included Tony Cox, Jeff Harris, Sam Jones, Steve Hairston, and Dennis Moore. These young men and the returning Varsity wrestlers should make the nucleus of a very strong varsity team next season.

Seniors Mood One Of Involvement

The senior class here at Northern set a mood this year. "A mood of brotherhood and total involvement," said senior class president Danny Corey. He also adds that the ultimate goal was to make this senior year as memorable and fulfilling to the students' lives as possible.

At the start of the year, the seniors were at a disadvantage with a very small treasure. But that obstacle was overcome and funds were surpassed by selling Viking derbies, cupcakes, twinkies, potato chips and sponsoring a talent show on Dec. 10, a basketball game between the students and faculty, and a very successful dance with Great Lakes Express on Oct. 21.

The Senior Prom was held May 21, at Our Lady of Lebanon Hall and the Senior Dinner was at the Grand Blanc Country Club on May 6.

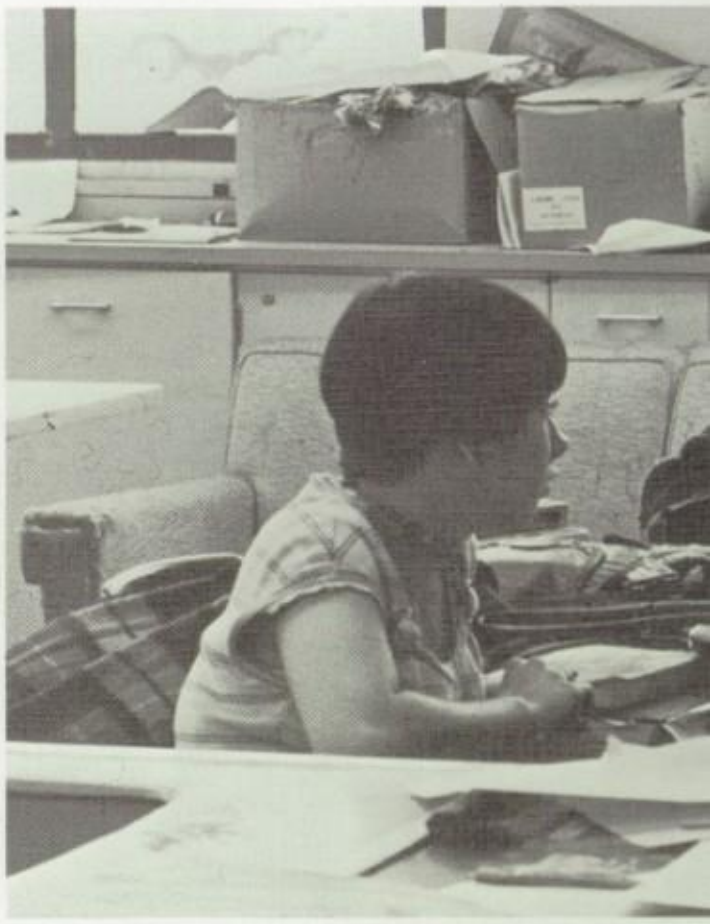
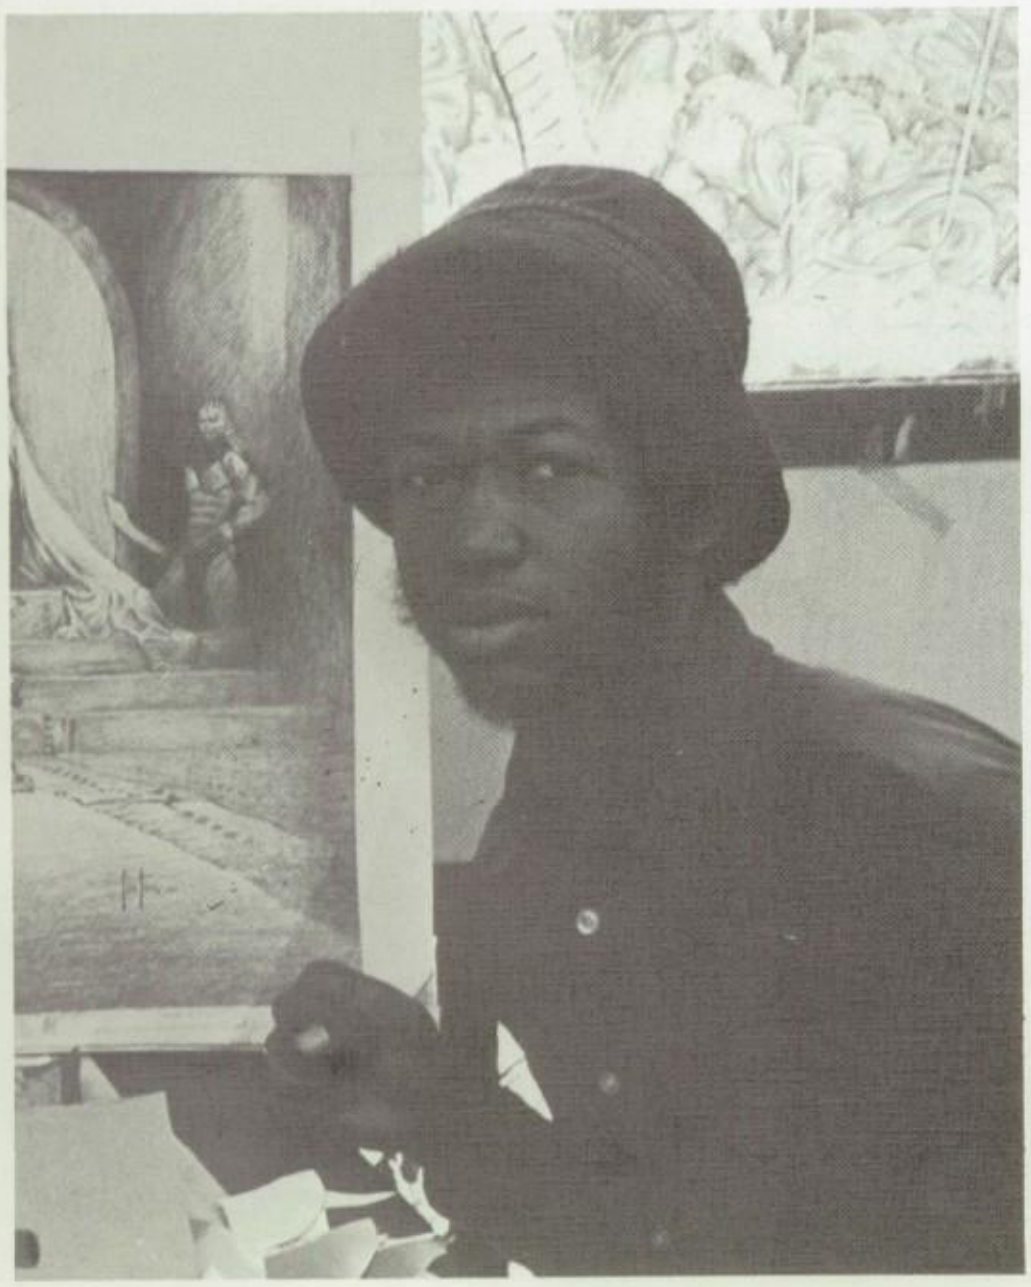
Academics

Industrial Arts Dept. Always Industrially Busy

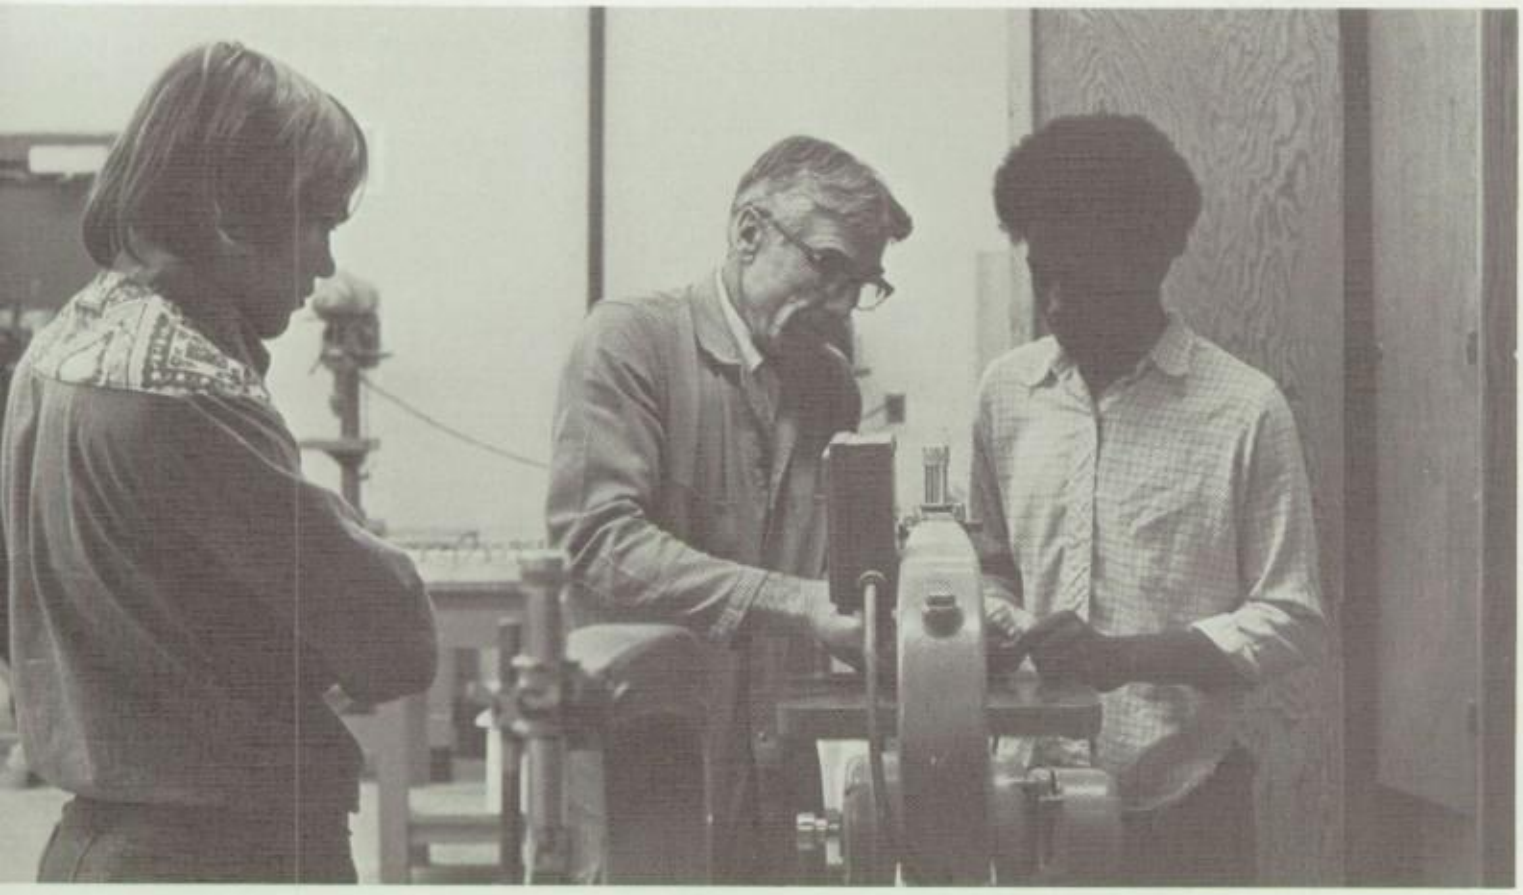
The Industrial Arts Department is one that is always industrially busy. This department includes such classes as drafting, architectural drawing, machine drawing, graphic arts, and auto mechanics. It is headed by Mr. Anthony Rasmovich who has been at Northern for 29 years. He says that these classes make students aware of the world of work, to know and understand tools, and how to use them correctly and efficiently. He also states that by the time the students leave, they should be able to deal with problems arising in a lab type class and how to solve them for future use.



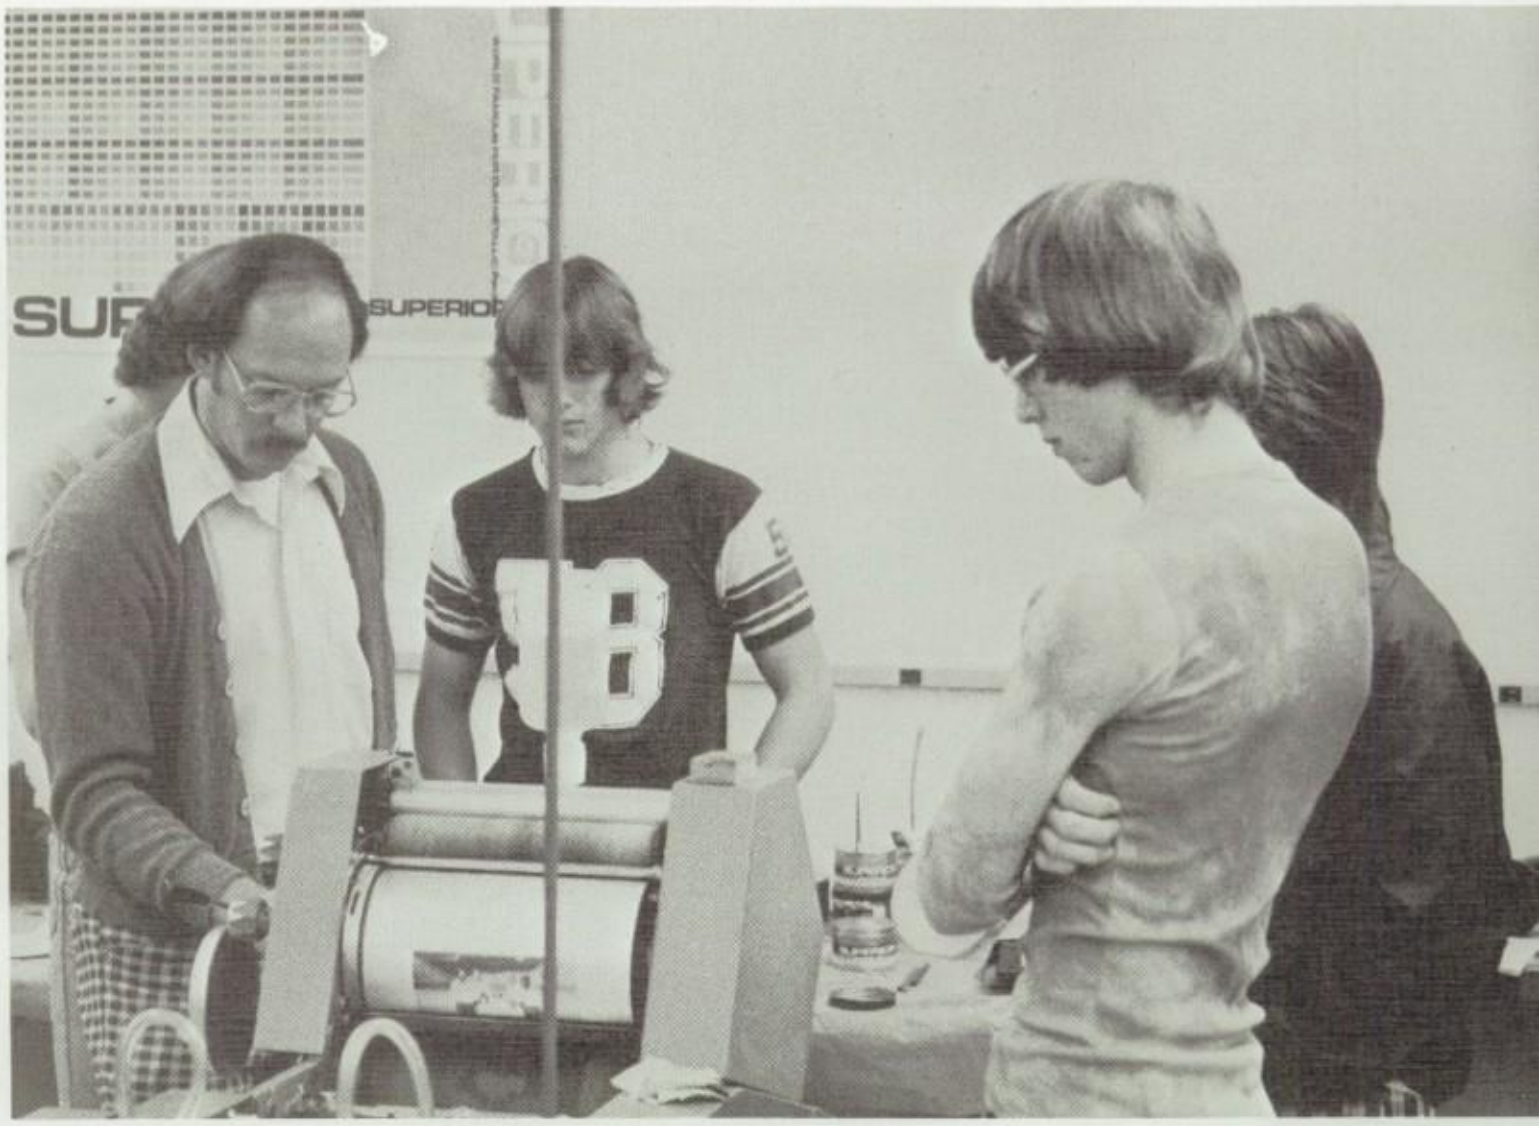


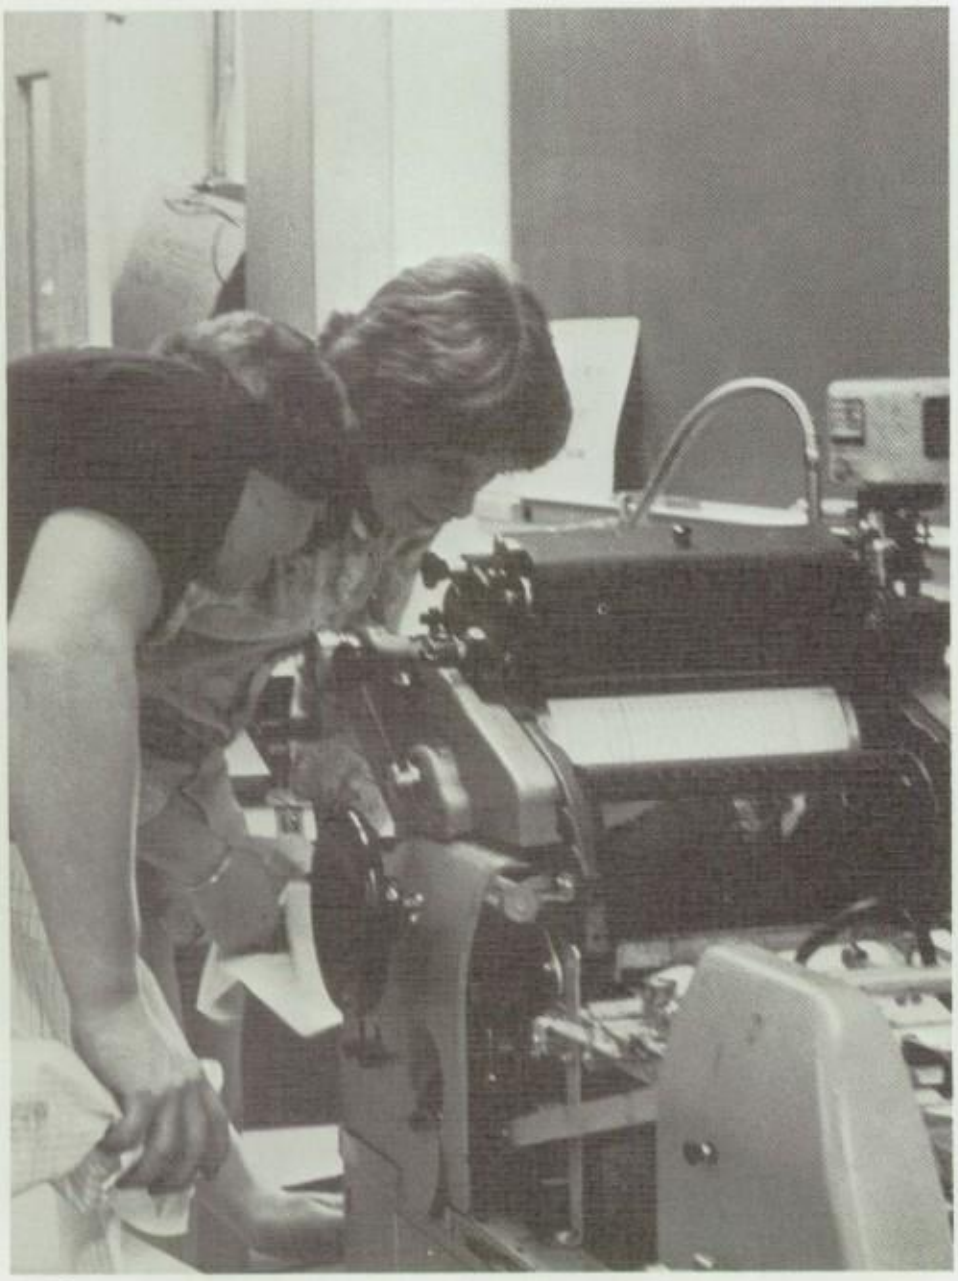
Sandy Dale concentrates on her work in art class. Art class is a pla to relax and express your feelings and ideas. Alvene Strong and Phyl Wright work on a poster assignment. Al Foster displays his work proud Art class proved to be work and enjoyment at the same time.

Robert Geyer and Glen Johnson are being shown how to work some sort of saw by their industrial arts teacher, Mr. Rasmovich. The Industrial arts program takes patience and large amounts of skill, but after it is done the product shows how much tender loving care it received.



Working with wood is where the eye of the camera finds Raymond Rogers. Chris Majors finds out what's wrong underneath it all. Everybody finds they enjoy some form of the arts, for these two students their "thing" seems to be the Industrial Arts program here at Northern.





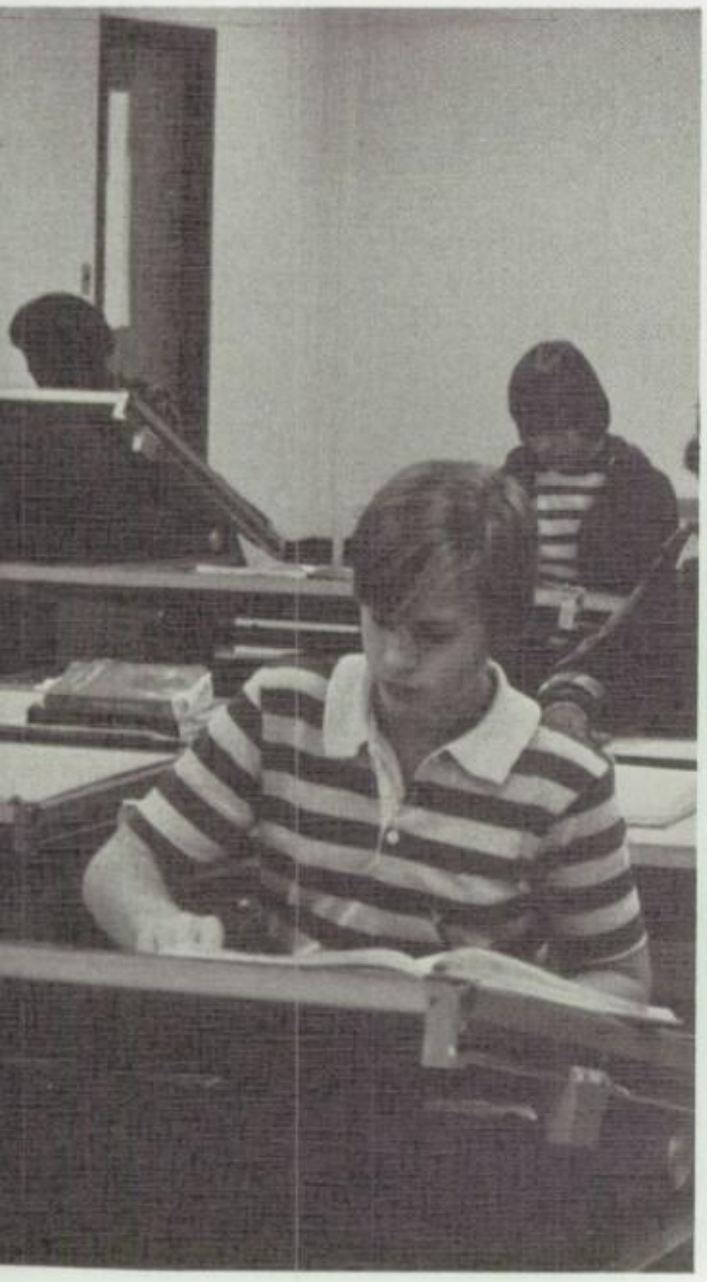
Mark Gonyea and Paul Hamm listen closely to instructor, Mr. Prater, explain the techniques involved. If you want to know, you'd better listen. Hot of the presses and Chris Hubbard and Wayne Robinson are there to make sur those presses keep on doing their job.

Graphic Arts Play Important Role

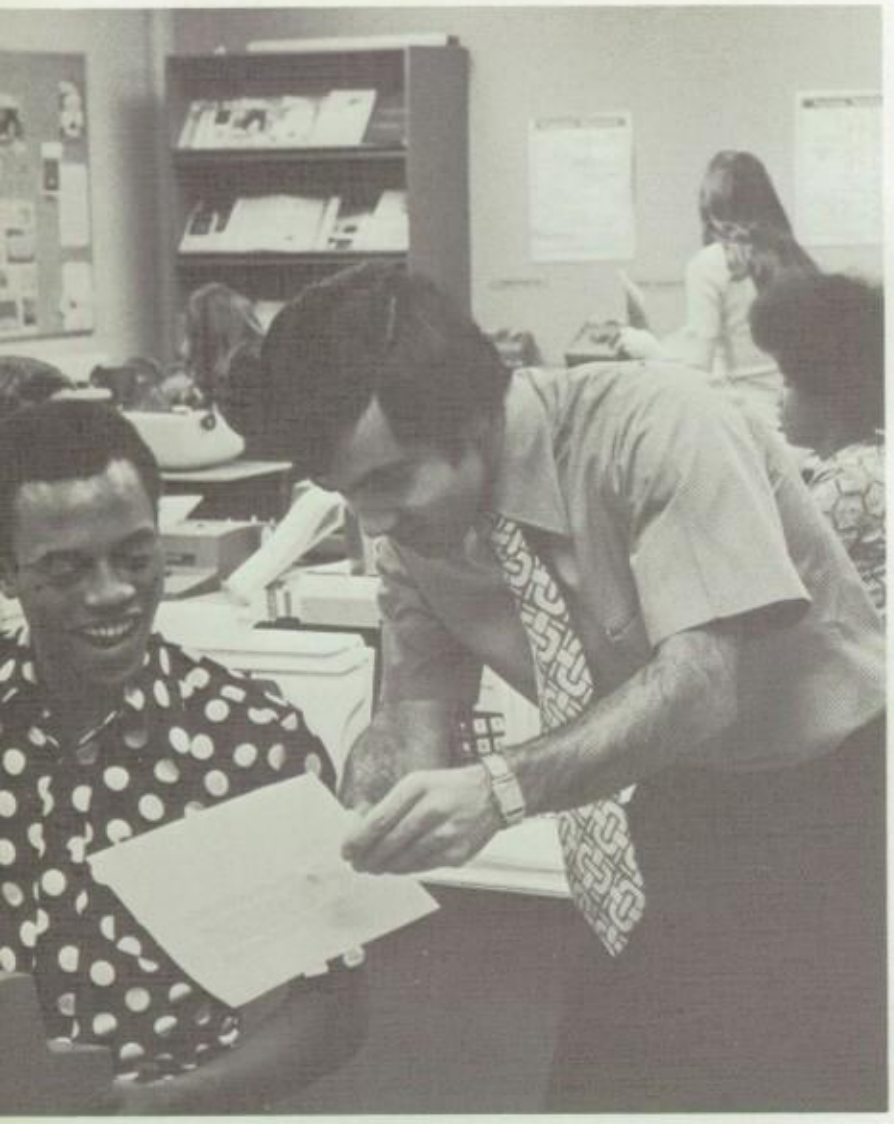
The Graphic Arts program, run by Mr. John Prater and Mr. Bruce Wierman, plays an important part for Northern as it produces all of the printed material bulletins. The equipment from Southwestern was brought to Northern, some new equipment was added, and the rooms were changed.

In changing the rooms and equipment, students helped put the facility in order. Now the presses are rolling and everything is running smoothly. Classes are such that they are a learning process as well as an enjoyment. Some classes offered under this program are Graphic Arts 1 and 2 and other classes ranging from photography to all types of printing.

Most of the classes run for two hours and are considered training for future jobs in industry, using actual production jobs as a major teaching tool.



Tim Holt is using his imagination in Graphic Arts. It seems he is enjoying himself. Wanda Hudson is taking a break before getting back to work. Concentration is an important part of Graphic Arts and that is what Mark Taylor is showing.



Home Ec., Business Prepare Students

The Home Economics program at Northern is said by Mrs. Holley and Mrs. Moss to prepare students for their future. Mrs. Holley, Chairperson for this department, has been at Northern for 5 years. She says that these classes will definitely help the students to some extent in their futures. She also states that they have learned that life is not all play and that they have learned to be serious and ambitious in their work.

Mrs. Holley teaches food classes while Mrs. Moss introduces students to the world of clothing.

The business department, headed by Mr. David Jacobs, is much like the home-economic program in the sense that it gives the students a challenge and responsibilities. It offers the individual skills which may prove useful in the future for these students. Marketing, typing, and other types of business could also prove to be a starting point for a career for these young people. In short, to make good in any of these classes, you need to be taking care of business.

Students Show Interest in English, Foreign Languages

Foreign Languages have become growing interest according to the udent enrollment in these classes. Miss Phyllis Macklem was chairerson in this department and also aught French. Mrs. Dolores Zale aught Spanish, Mr. Keith Johnston, erman, and also Mrs. Odessa Jackon.

Many activities took place such s a French dinner, a Taco party, nd a caramel apple sale. At presnt, plans are being made and noney is being raised to sponsor student for a summer in France. he German sector's main purpose is year was to raise money to go n a Spring European tour, to have a lunch and dinner using German foods, and also to take a trip to Frankenmuth.

While the foreign language department has kept busy, the English department has been somewhat altered as many electives were moved to Central High School as part of the humanities specialty program, which is located there.

Miss Mary Ellen McOwen, in her first year as a chairperson, has made up for some of this laxness. She has gotten together some activities such as getting speakers. One such example was Von Washington, director of Black Theater at U. of M. and star of "Othello."

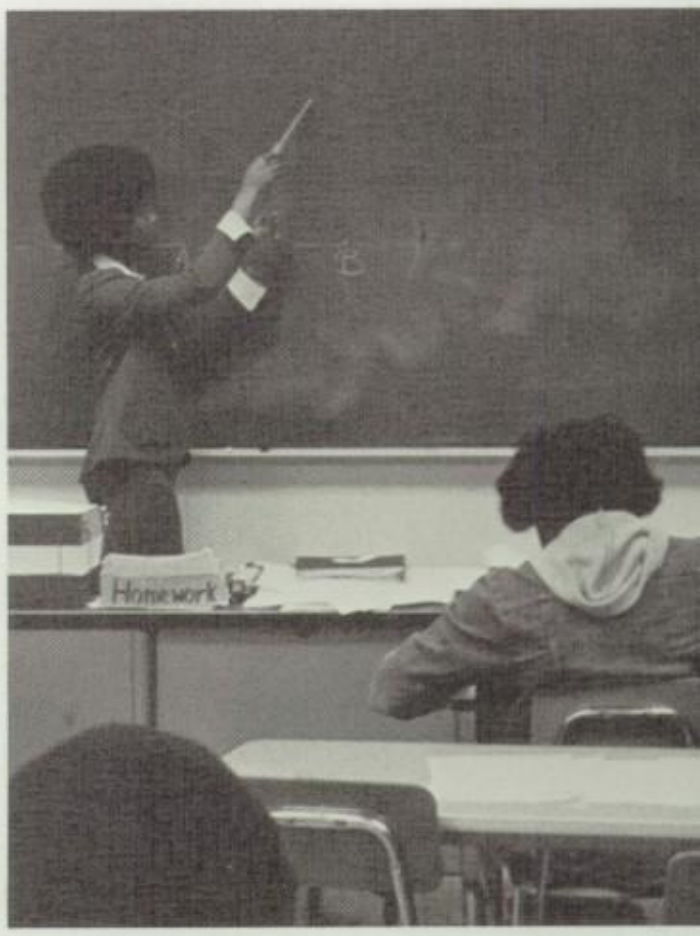
Students Specialize In Math Program

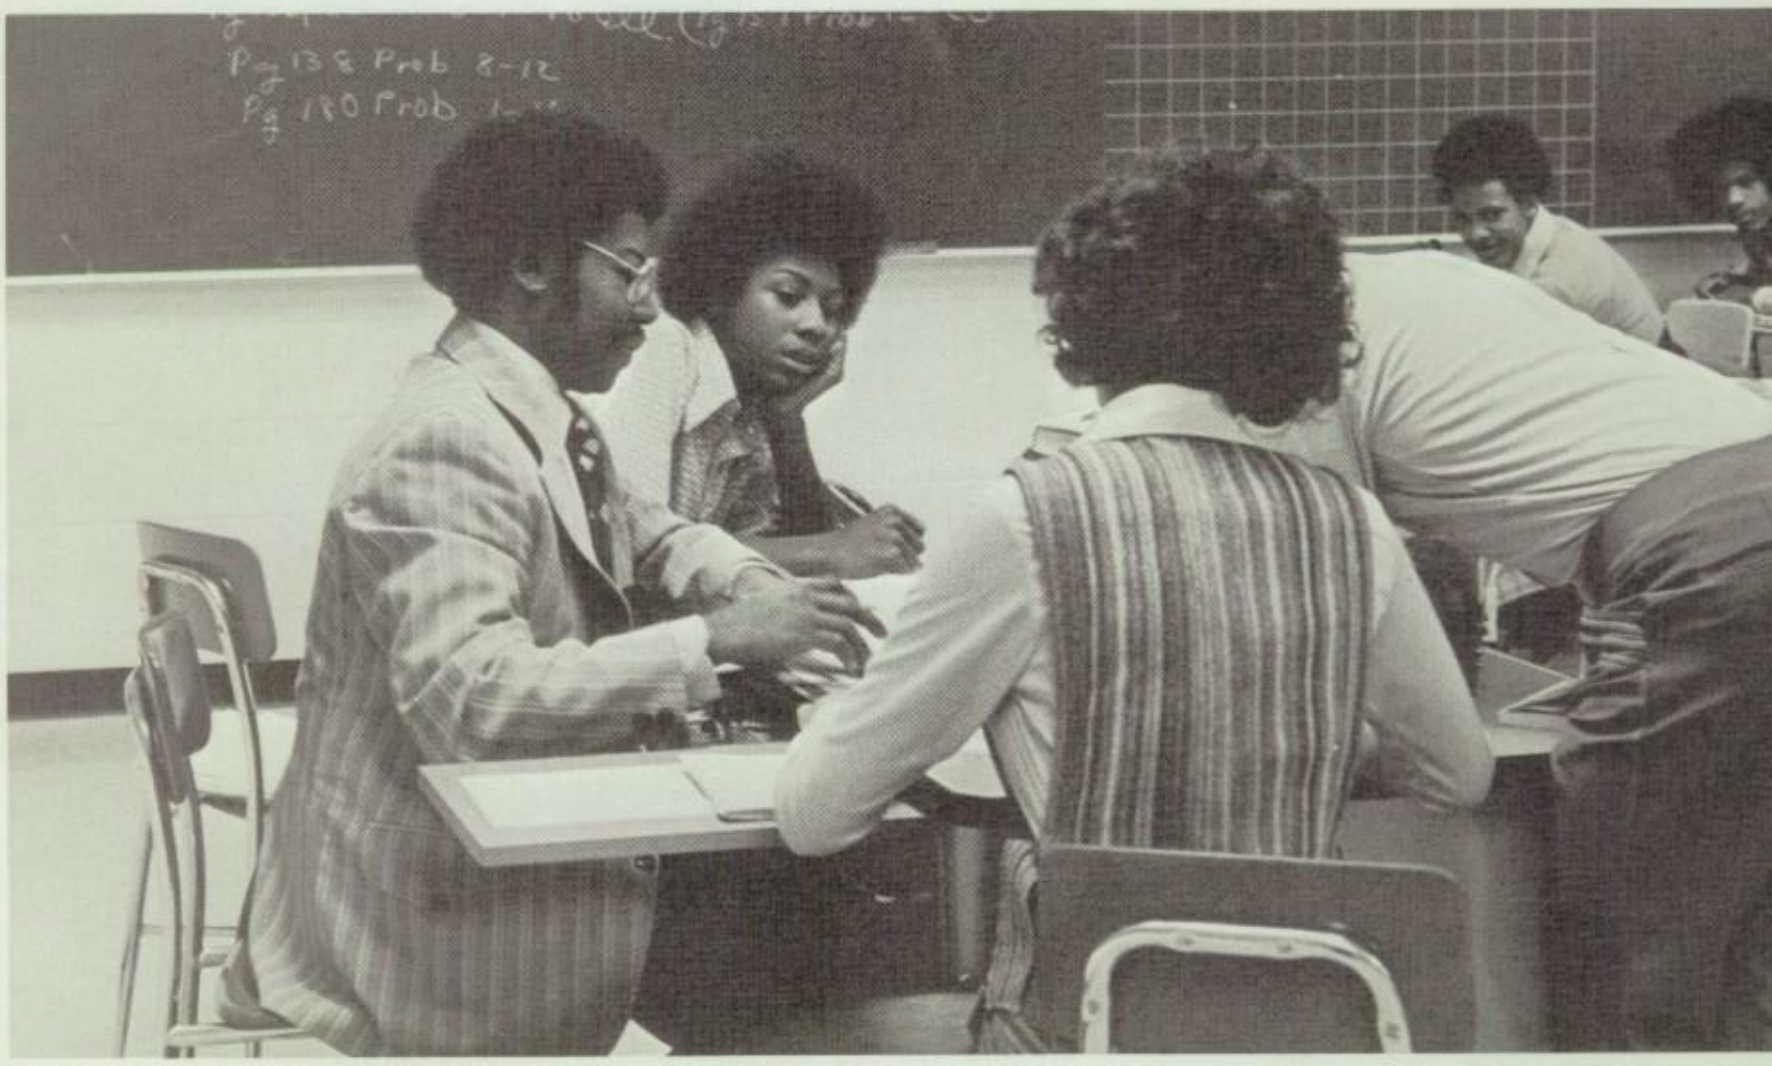
The Math Department, headed by Mr. Frank Miller, has been increased this year as a result of the specialty program and has seemed to function well. This was Mr. Miller's first year at Northern and he witnessed some of the brightest students because of the program.

In "Math Competition Tests" state-wide, five students from Northern placed in the top 5 percent of all math students in Michigan. They were Gwenda Brewer, Randy Cos, James Davis, Joel Ramseyer, and Steve Sorscher.

The Math Specialty Program was designed for all students with an interest in math that would take them beyond the scope of the regular math program at their home school. Some of the courses offered were: Enriched Geometry, Algebra 1-4, Trigonometry, Advanced Functions, Calculus, and Analytical Geometry.

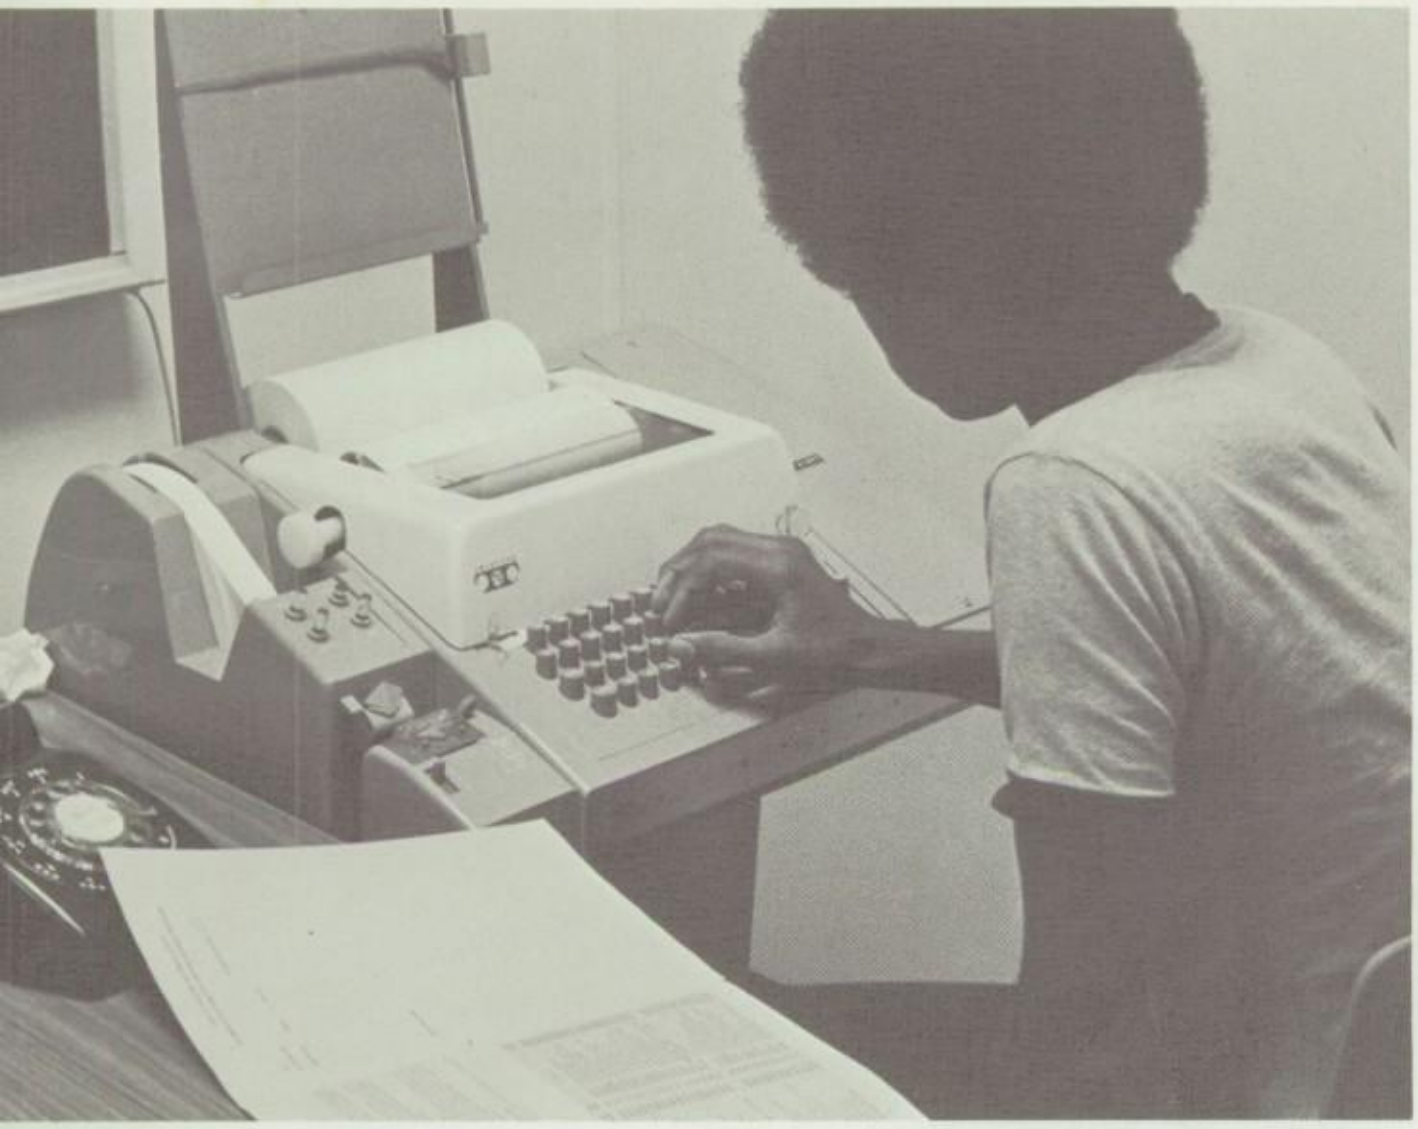
At present, the math specialty program had students enrolled with many different academic achievement levels and corresponding classes. Therefore, the math specialty program is not restricted to highly academically-talented students.

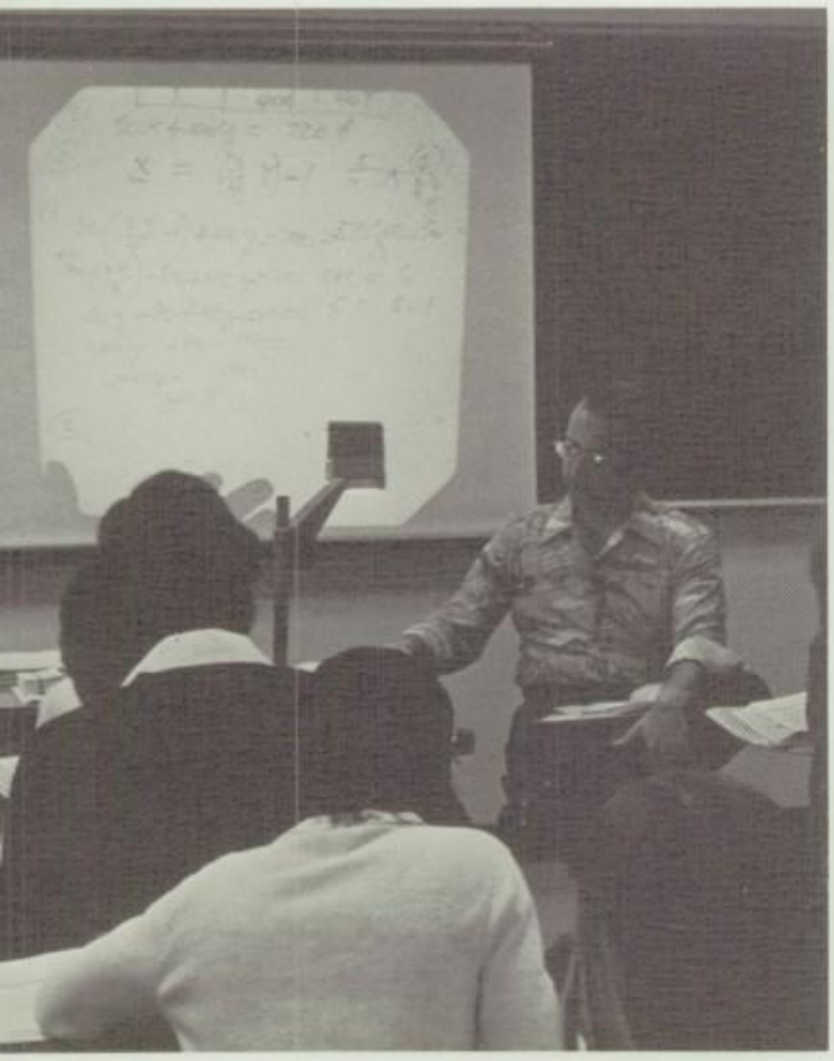




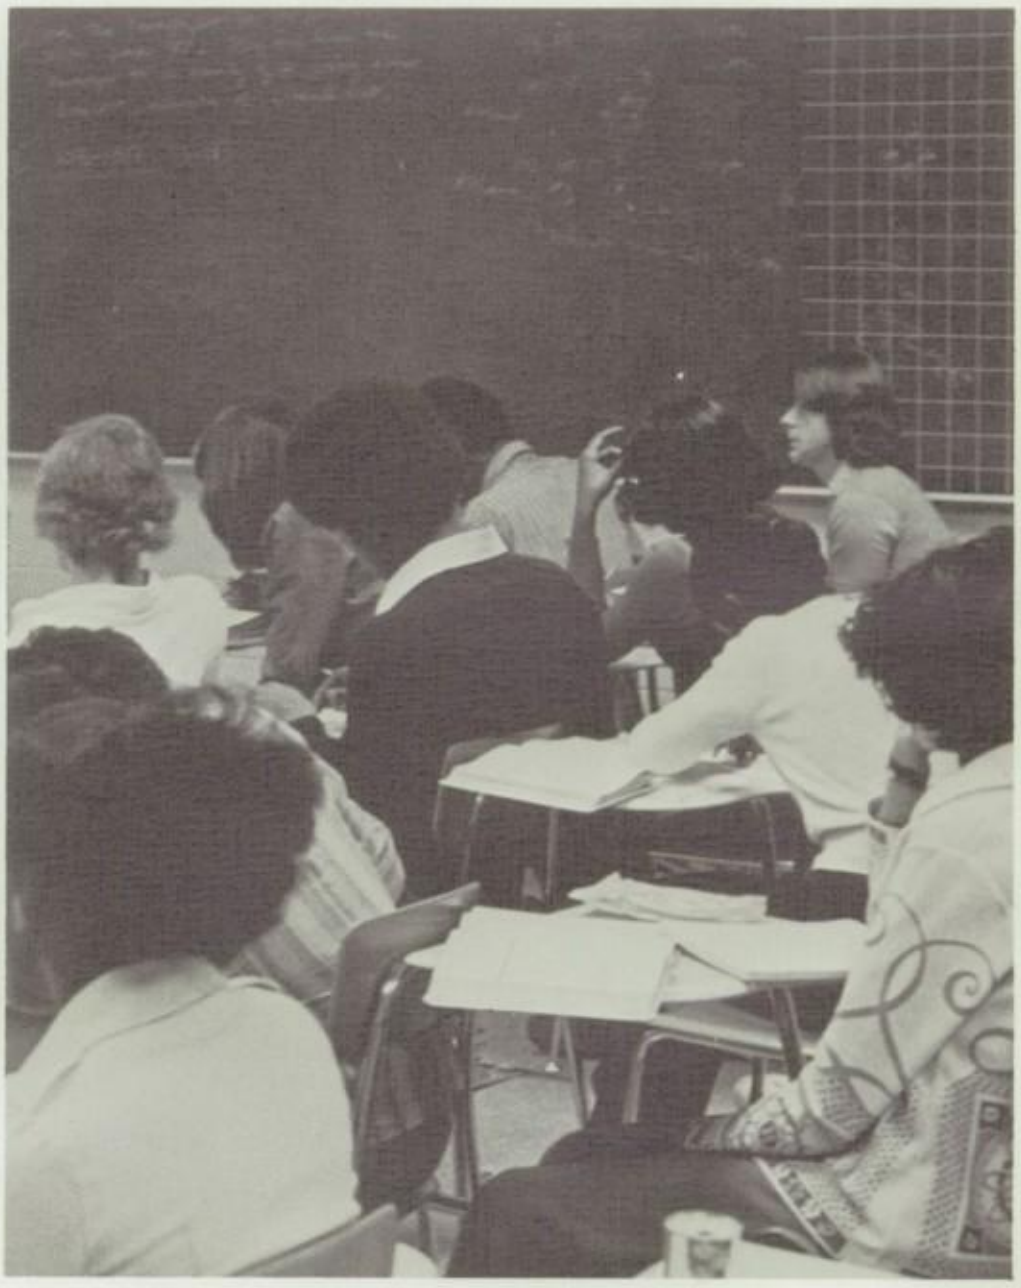
Specialty Math program here at Northern attracts many superior math teachers as well as superior math students. Mr. McLean finds that sometimes it is better to sit down and discuss the problem as he does here with his students, Ken Smith and Kim Carpenter.

A substitute teacher finds that a chalk compass comes in handy wh drawing those perfect circles. It's hard for some students to understa those math concepts but those substitutes do their best to make sure t tell you all they know when the teacher is sick.





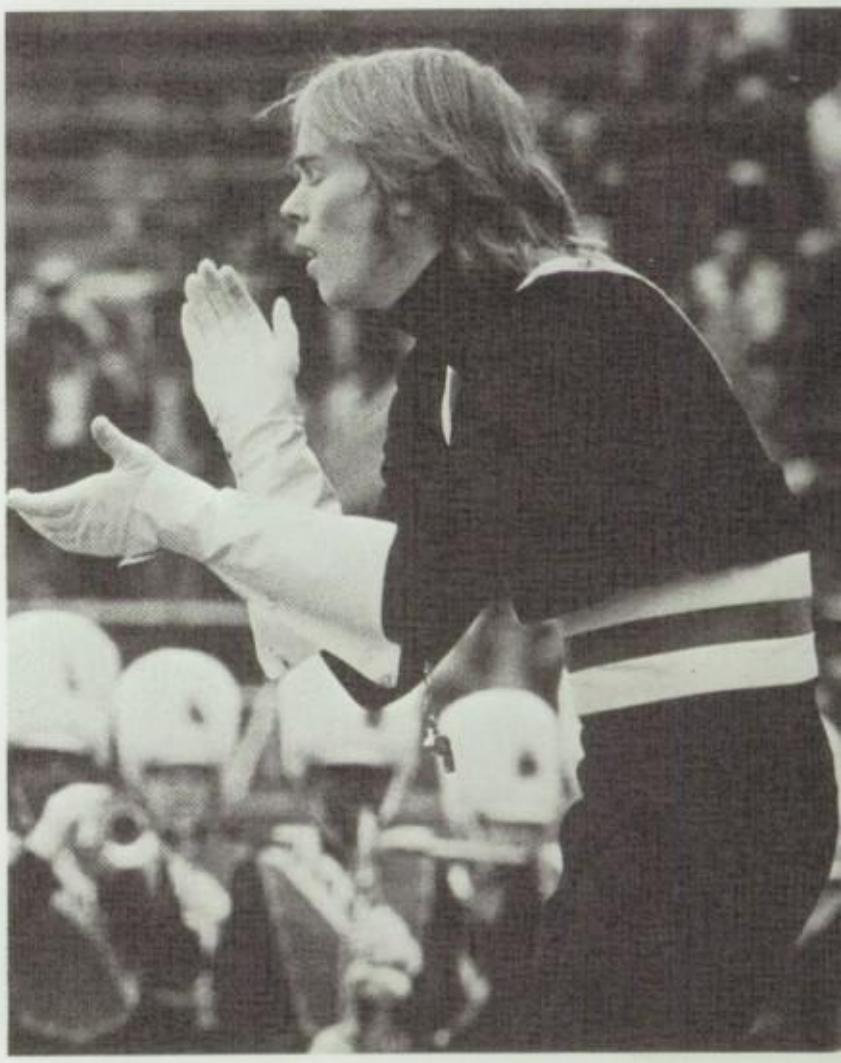
Working with the computer is a challenge and the student here seems to be thoughtful about which key to push. Mr. Carson finds that an overhead projector is important if all the class wants to see your work. Shirley Edwards, Nina Green and Boinita Taylor listen to homework.



Music Shows Talent

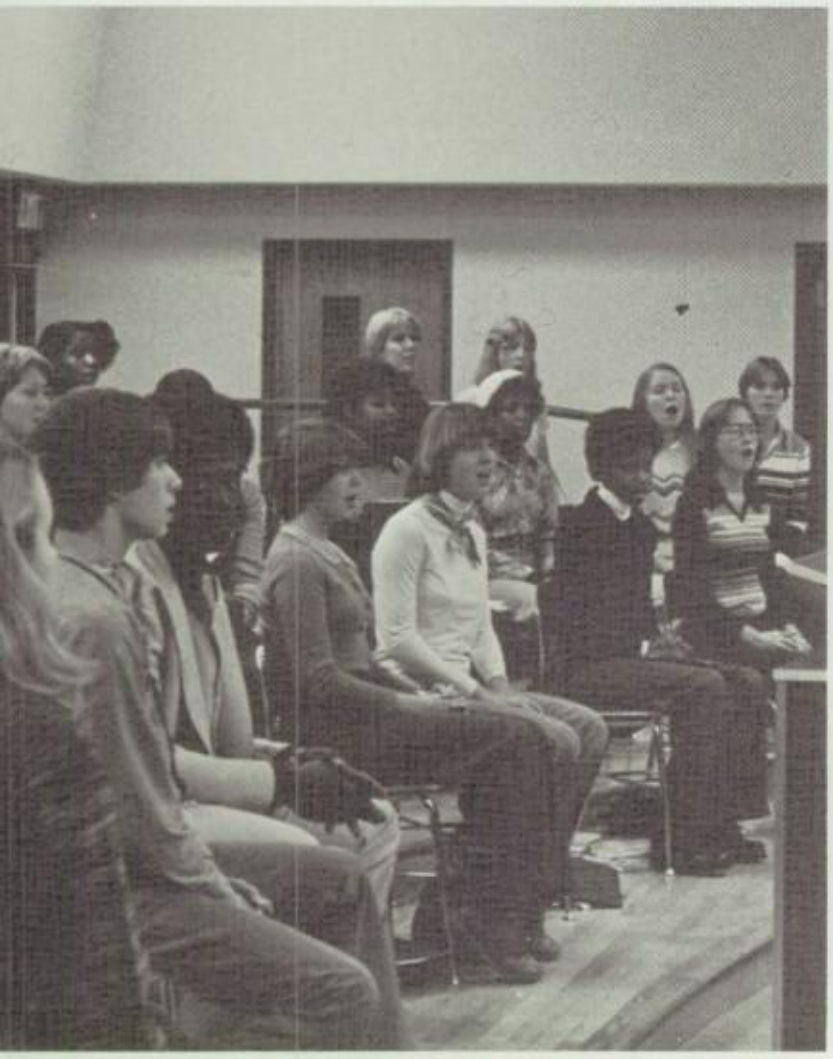
The Music Department, according to Mr. Helmut Petrich, is always striving for bigger and better things. He says that the main purpose each year is to achieve greater results than the group of the year prior.

Last year, the choir took two seconds in the ensemble finals. These are considered superior ratings for the choir, who receive high ratings each year. Most of the activity took place in the spring for all the different sections of the music department. The choir itself is made up of many members from each class. Officers of the choir are as follows: President-Marva Halcom; Vice-President- Carol Turnipseed; Secretary-Shiela Davis; Historian- Russ Ferguson; Librarians- Amy Darnton and Scott Crawford; and Sales Leader—Doretha Bell.

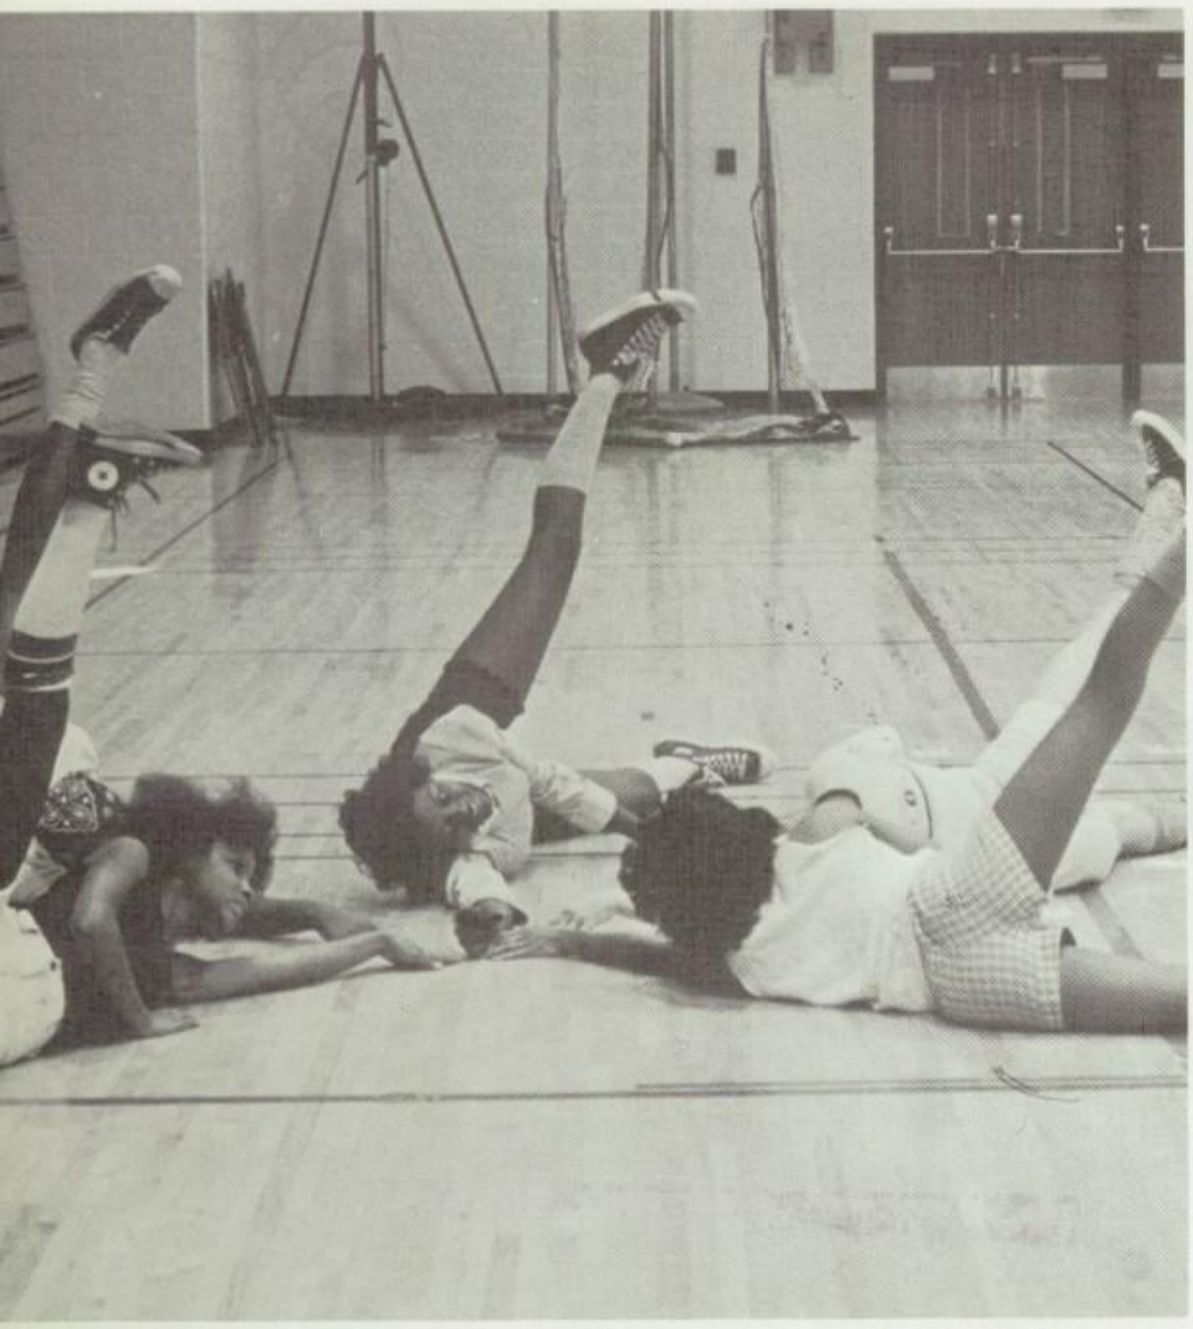


Concentration is shown on faces as the band performance goes on. Th drummers Stan Haegert, Eugene Savage, and Kevin Danko stay in bea Drum Major John Price shows enthusiasm.

Throughout the year the Ensemble takes part in competition under the direction of Mr. Helmut Petrich. The Ensemble consists of Jeff Woodard, Vann Taylor, Russ Ferguson, Efram Channel, Sue Pastue, Paul Jones, Judy Madras, Paige Visser, Scott Crawford, and Betsy Carlson.



The choir practices hard as they are rewarded by their high ratings in competition. The Ensemble sings full of enthusiasm. The members here are Amy Seaborn, Jim Davis, Eddie Bailey, Sue Shaw, Jeff Woodard, and Vann Taylor.



In Physical Education this year students learn a variety of things. Tony Owens, Jackie Fuller, Della Adolf and Isabelle Thompson show the routines they learned in physical conditioning. Yolanda Clemons and Pam Sorenson battle for the basketball that isn't there. Meanwhile Belinda Taylor, Debra Bussey, Connie Denate and Rita Terry play basketball with a ball.

Valorie Cowder, Ratha Harmon, Angela Allen, Victoria Winbush, Pam Burns, and Darlene Grace are doing routines coordinated to music. This was a part of the physical fitness section of physical education class.

Coed Programs Provide Skills for Both Sexes

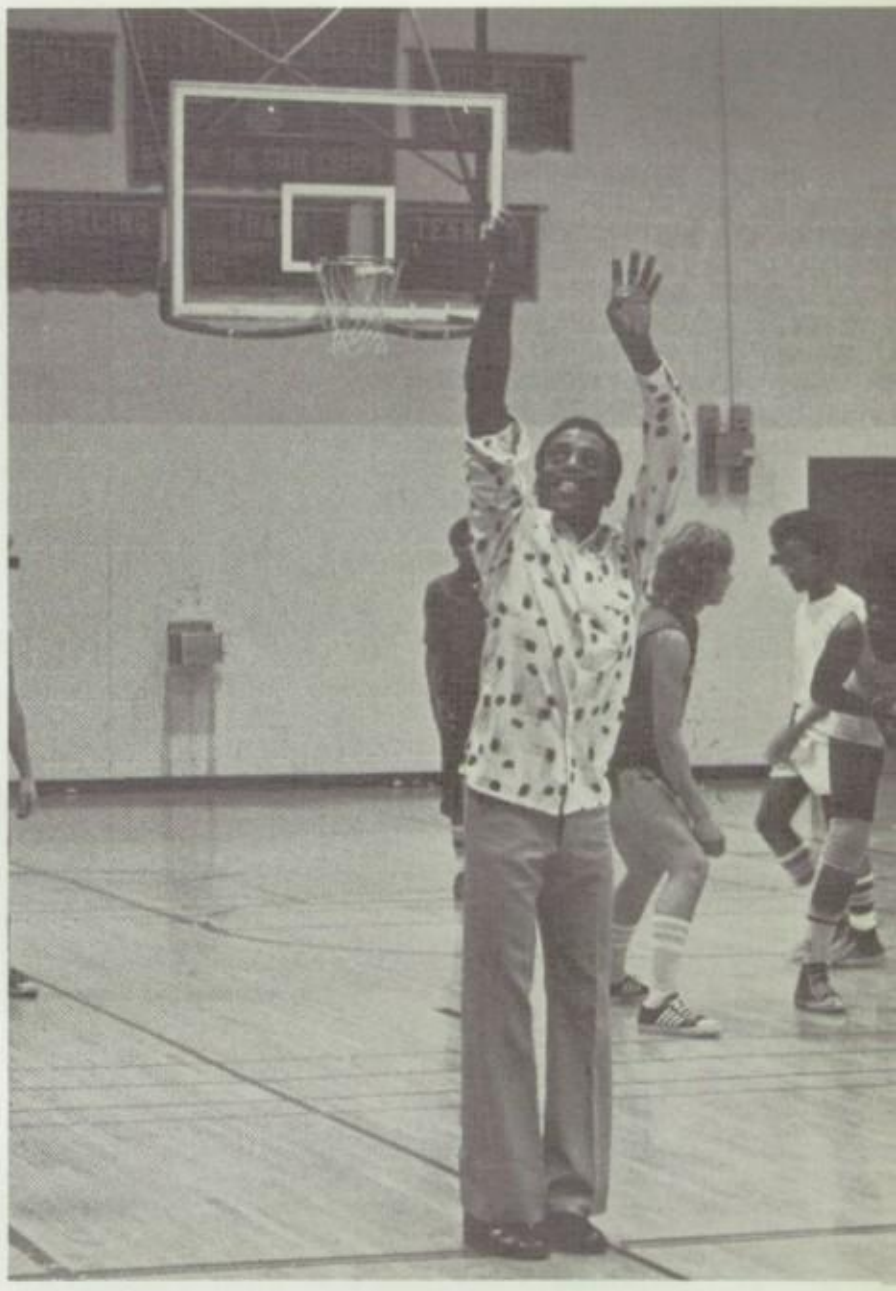
As the second semester began, the physical education program started co-educational activities. This has been a selective series with the boys having first opportunity to enroll, as the girls have done throughout the past four years. It has been run by one male and one female teacher for three hours each day.

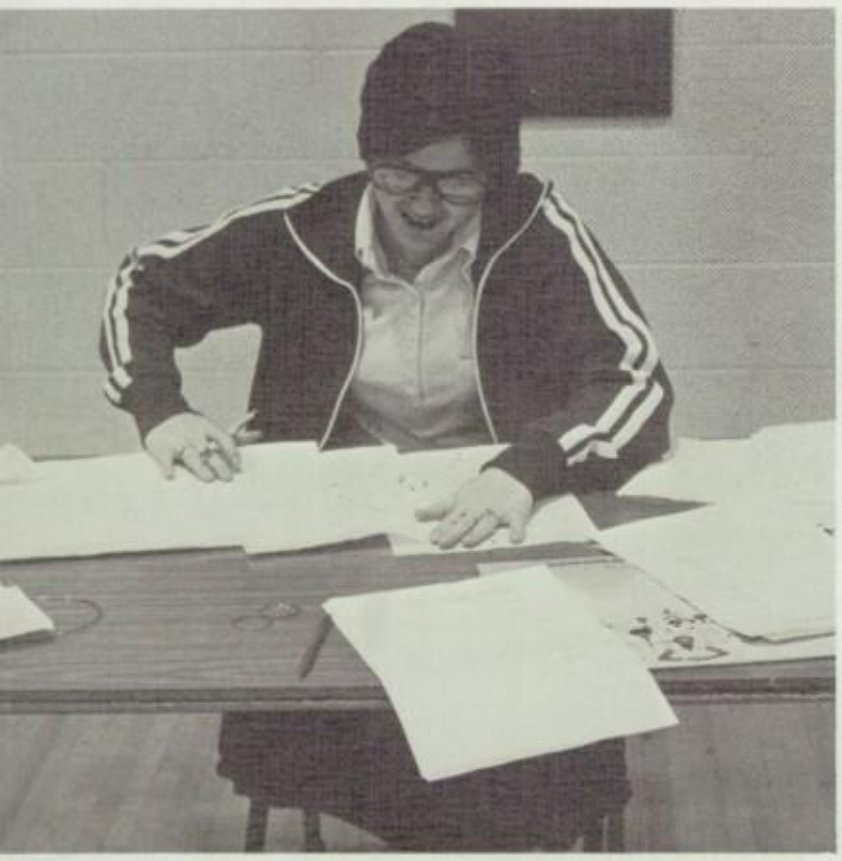
Miss Dottie Kukulka, teacher of the Girls' P.E. program, stated that the main purpose of this program is to provide an opportunity for the students to select a combination of activities and to include a variety of levels of skill ability to meet the needs of the individual students.

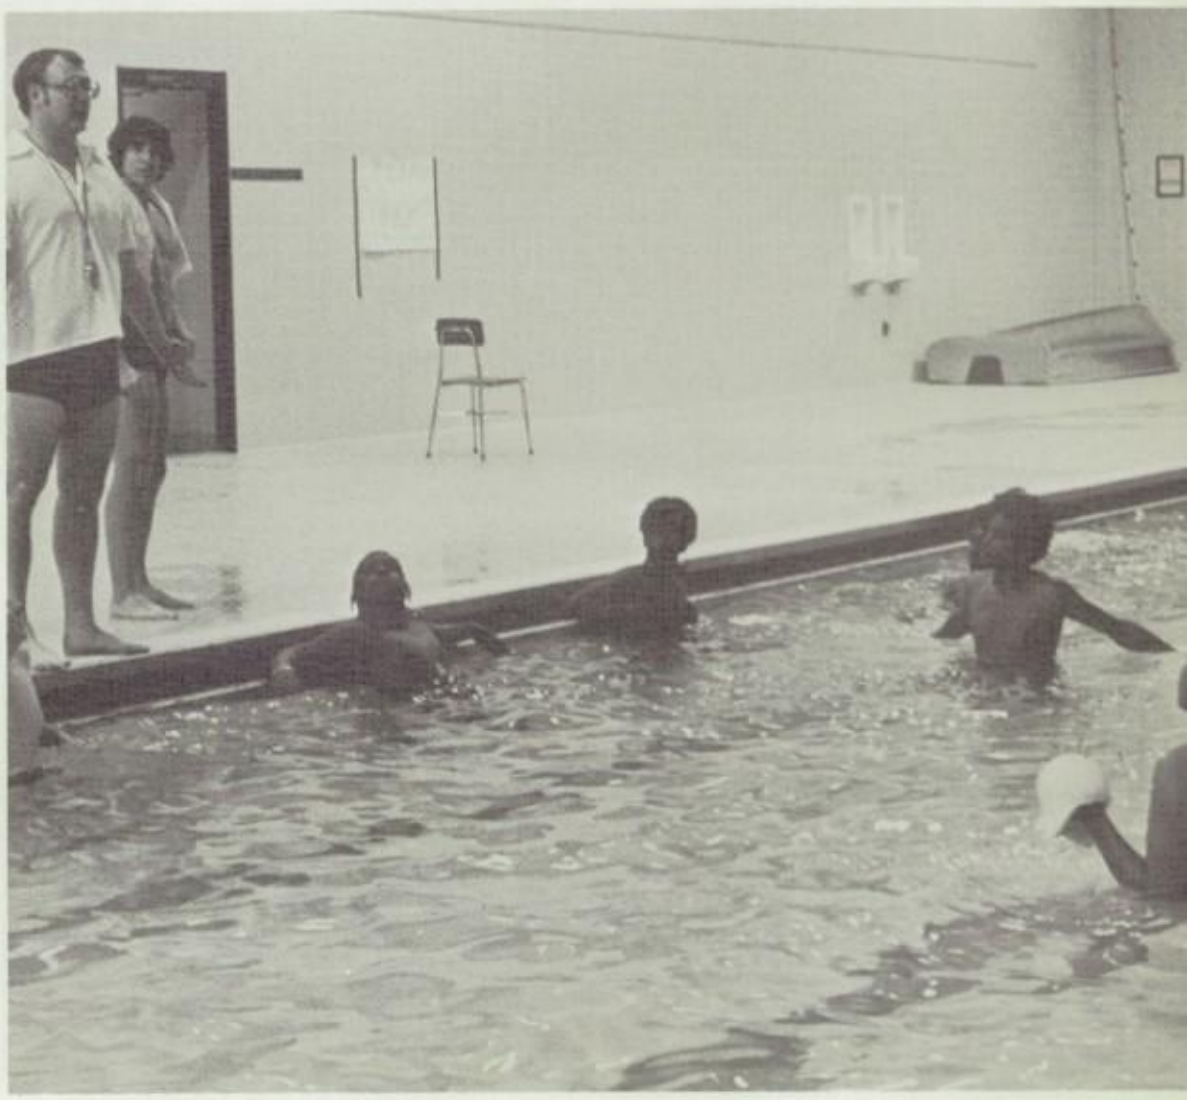
Also, the physical education program is an academic as well as a laboratory class involving activity and development of skill.

Mr. William Adams, head of the P.E. program, agress with Miss Kulkulka in the sense that the gym program should be kept as an academic and students should not only learn physical skills, but also to teach fundamentals, techniques, responsibility, self-discipline, and strategies of the various sports.

This program could be best referred to as a challenge than a trial and the department heads only hope it will meet and conquer this challenge.







Physical Education student Gabrial Martin shows off his basketball skill with an invisible basketball. Miss Sandi Martell, student teacher for physical education, seems to enjoy correcting papers. Students don't seem very interested in Mr. Geraces instructions on swimming.

Science Begins Specialty Program

The Science Department, headed by Mr. Harold Cochran, has changed its classes and purpose to students in the last few years. Mr. Cochran says that the main purpose now is to prepare students to live in this scientific age and understand the ever-changing world around them. Also to give them background for future studies in science.

This year there were 13 sections of specialty classes introduced to the science program. The other science classes were Biology 1 and 2, Life Science, Chemistry 1-4, Physics 1-4, Environmental Studies, Physiology, House Plants, Garden Plants and Small Animals.

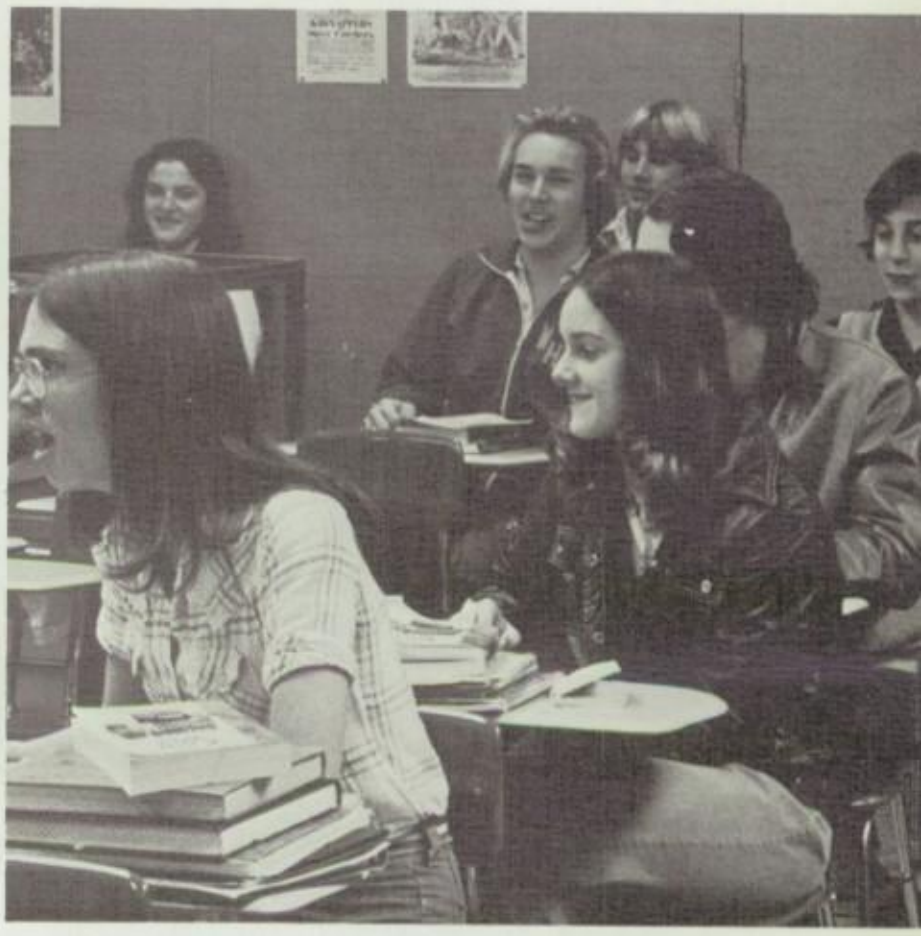
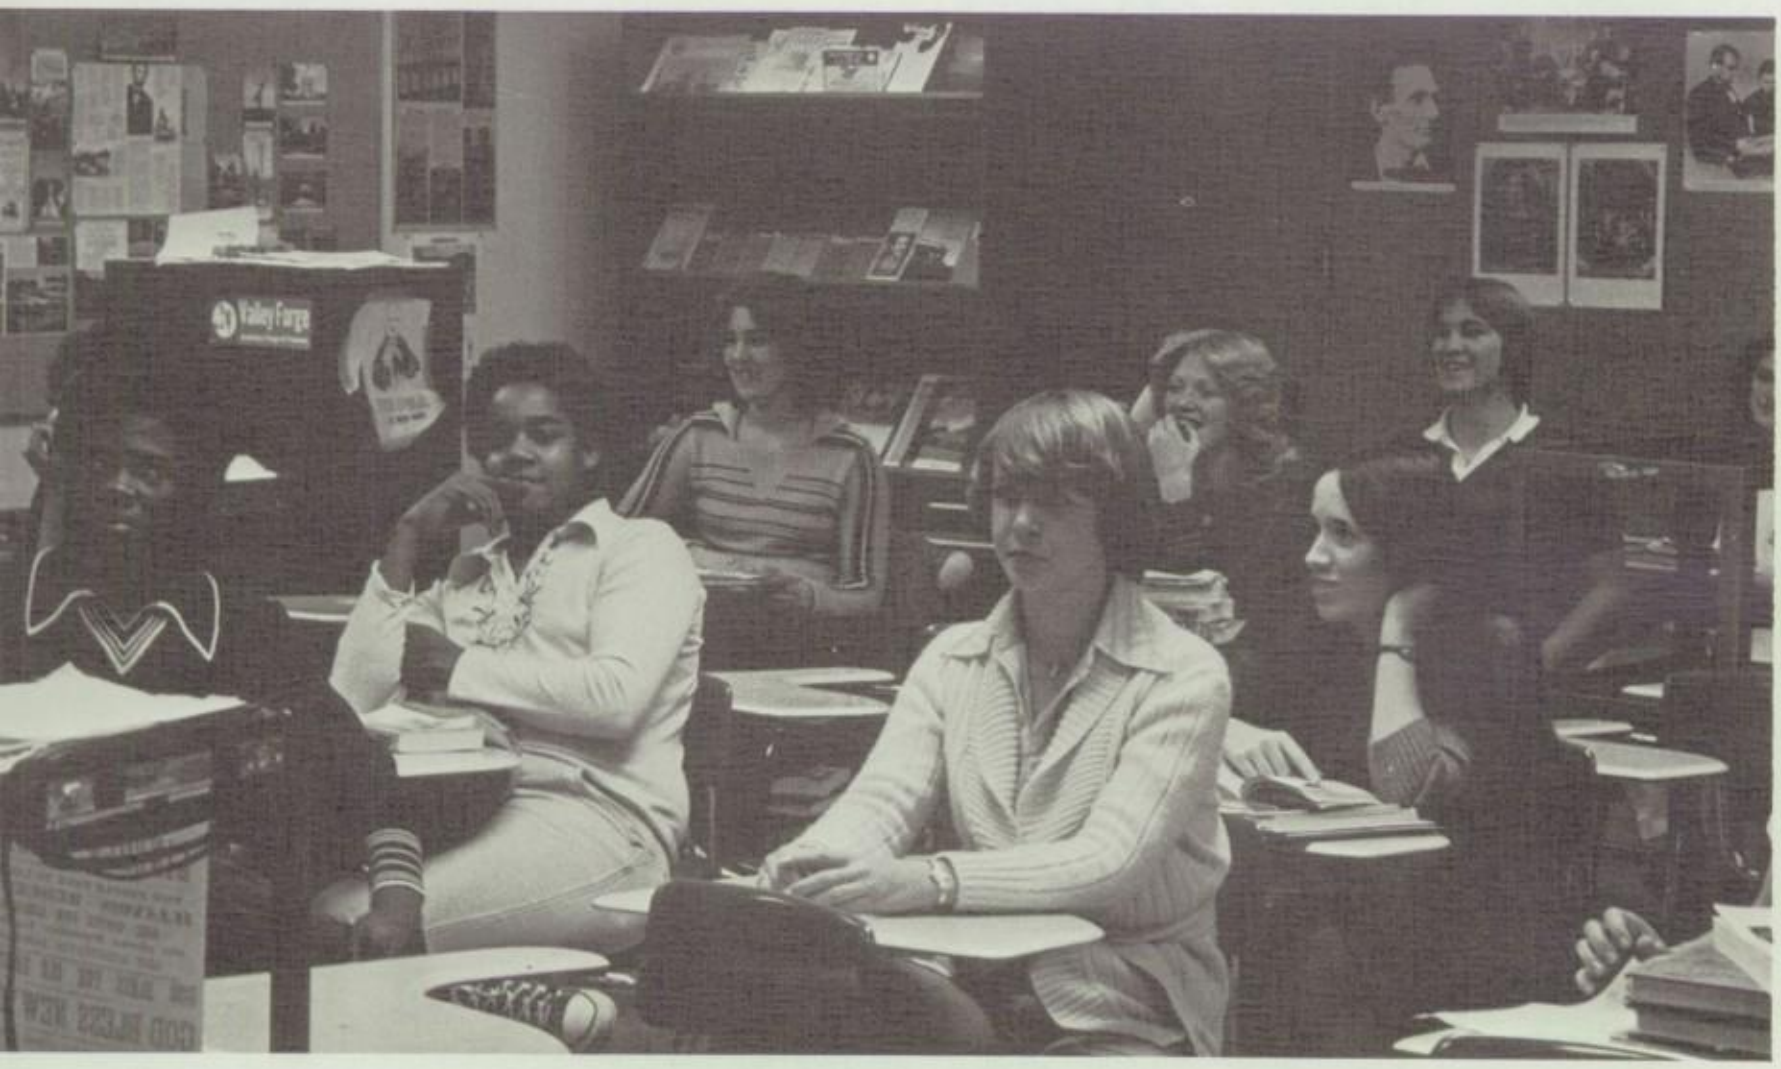
Social Studies Includes Many New Offerings

The Social Studies Department has offered over 40 different classes in the last year including History, Economics, Government, Family Relationships, and Behavior Sciences.

This department, headed by Mr. Brian Veenhuis, had classes for everyone. For sophomores, there was a new course designed especially for them, which taught basic social studies skills, entitled Fundamentals of Social Studies and for each class, there were corresponding courses. All of these classes sought to provide a quality education for all Northern's students.

For the Michigan History and Civil War classes, there were field trips that could be taken. Some Michigan History students had the chance to go on a Michigan History field trip, while the Civil War classes went on their fourth annual Gettysburg trip.





Students in Mr. David Blight's class don't look like they are getting much work done but they do seem to be doing quite a bit of laughing, probably over one of Mr. Blight's usual jokes or stories.

ABOVE: Blight's Civil War class seems to be dumbfounded as he has finally cut out the jokes and has given them an assignment to do.*

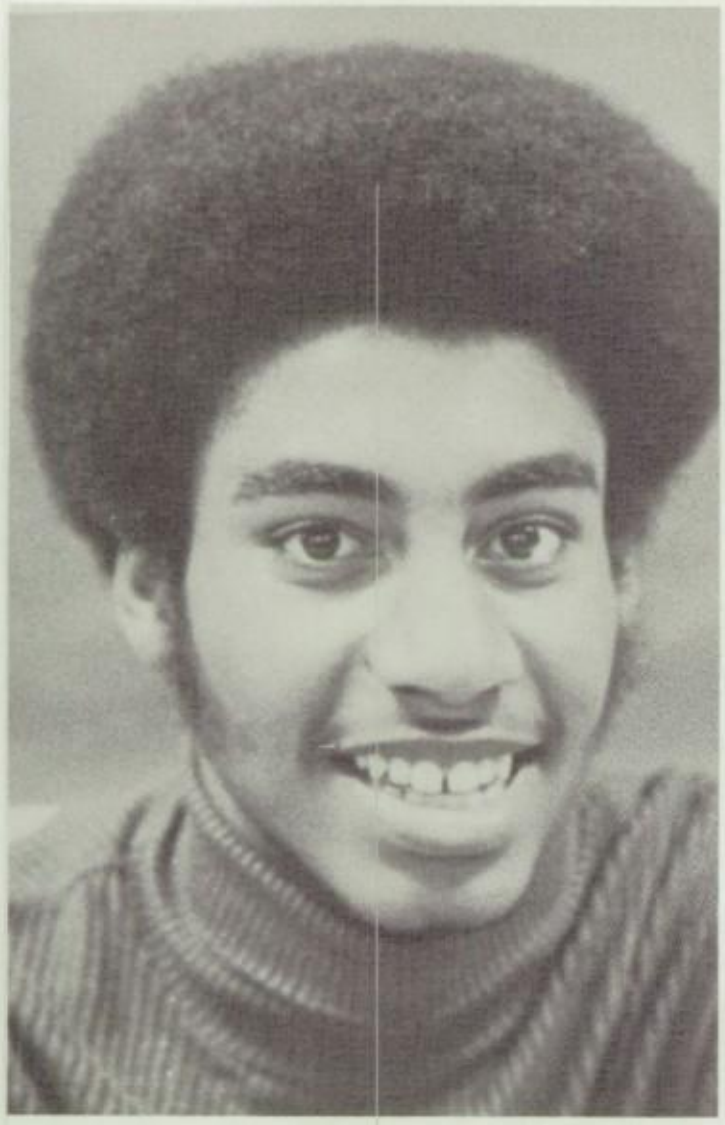
Juniors Look Forward and Plan Their Senior Year



The Junior class had many sales, including candy sales and sales regularly after school in the canteen. All of these sales had one major purpose-to raise money for plans made. Plans that were made were for next years prom and also a Junior Couples' dance this year.

Officers of the junior class are president Sarina Blackman, vice-president Jenice Sweezer, secretary Patrice Kelly, and treasurer Debbie Wilson. Representatives are Jeff Woodard, Lisa Ivory, Judy Pace, Gwen Tolbert, Letitia James, and Libby Clark.

The junior class met once a week in Mr. John Darnton or Miss Dorothy Stradford's room, the advisers for the junior class. Attendance was good.

New Ideas, Plans

The Sophomore class, comprised of new students, has offered many new ideas and plans for the 1976-77 school year. Mrs. Mallie Nunn, sponsor of the sophomore class, said these students have been continually busy in hopes of brightening the year with new activities. One such activity discussed in their many meetings was plans for a Valentine Day dance on February 18. The also made signs and flyers for th dance.

These new officers and represent atives have shown a great deal o enthusiasm for this dance and a of the other activities that wer planned.

John Price (Drum Major) helps inspire the Marching Band into cheering for their team. Clarinets and drummers line up to start their halftime show which this year included songs such as Yankee Doodle, Vehicle, and of course, The Star Spangled Banner. The Marching Band is made up of a lot of instruments including tubas, of which they have many.

Northern's Ensemble

Not All Play

Flint Northern's choir and ensemble may be fun, but it is not all play. Many long hours are put in by Mr. Helmut Petrich's group so they may visit many local places to perform. Kearsley and Southwestern are just two high schools they visited, the Flint Golf Club called on them, they attended a Madrigal Festival, and they even filled the Whiting Auditorium with their voices.

Flint Northern is very proud to have these young people represent them whatever they are performing.

The '76-'77 Varsity and J.V. cheerleaders have proven to be one of the best in recent years here at Northern. Miss Doris Price, coach of these young ladies, has seen them take numerous awards throughout the season. Theses awards include first place in the spirit award and in their cheer at Holly and Bentley Competitions, respectively.

The Varsity cheerleaders consisted of Darlene Massar, Denise Ruff, Ramada Younger, Renita Phillips, Evelyn Badget, Sandra Marshall, Patty Hehn and Robin Stone. The J.V. cheerleaders were made up of Sandy Holmes, Melissa Garrett, Debi Garrett, Linda Thompson, Pam Lane, Allison Garrett and Teresa Pace.

These young ladies put in many hours of work and it showed in many of their competitions. Along with the many awards won, they were also one of few schools in the state invited to cheer at the Pontiac Silverdome.

Pep Club Vikettes Help Lift School Spirit

The Pep Club and the Vikettes were two groups responsible for lifting the Vikings' spirits throughout the year. Their continous work and time put in is one reason the Northern Vikings are still number one.

The Pep Club, headed by Mrs. Carolyn Jackson, provided decorations for the football banquet, put up posters for all of the athletes, and had planned to give the basketball team a pre-game meal. Lynn Haney was the president of this spiri lifting organization, while Harr Williams was the vice-president.

The Vikettes were a group tha danced for the school fashion show the talent show, and for all hom basketball games. Mrs. Peeti Gree sponsored this group of dancers Jackie Spight was president, Ros Weeks, vice-president, Rose Knighton treasurer, and Yvonne Bryant work ed on the wardrobe.

DECA, BOEC Offer Opportunities

DECA and BOEC are two clubs hat offer vast opportunites for Northern students. Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) nd the Business Office Education Club (BOEC) are clubs that are egionally located and a countless umber of students take advantage f them year after year.

DECA, sponsored here at Northrn by Mr. George Perry, is designed o develop future leaders for mareting and distribution. The organzation is non-profit, non-political, chool centered and totally youth riented.

Miss Mary Miller, advisor of BOEC ere at Northern, heads a club that s to build and sharpen business ffice skills in order to be able to offer a saleable skill to employers and to prepare for competition against other Genesee County Area Office Education students.

Michelle Williams won the "Presidential Speech" award at Delta College while attending with five other officers at the BOEC annual Regional Officers Training Conference.

This club sold potato chips daily and held a bake sale to raise funds for their many activities. These activities included a dinner meeting in December, listened to a guest speaker from Buick, and had planned to attend Regional Competitive events at Baker Jr. College and BOEC State Leadership Conference at Michigan Inn.

National Honor Society Is Tops

The National Honor Society here at Northern is tops in the sense that it's membership is limited to 38 students and only those who have attained top achievement in academics.

Mrs. McOwen has headed this exclusive club for four years and this year they were kept busy by selling mums for the Thanksgiving Day football game, sponsoring the Red Cross blood drive and Bloodmobile, selling Northern pins to students, and paying for the senior honor cards.

Officers for the Society are: President-Cam Short; Vice-President-Paul Jones; Secretary-Janice Irving; and Treasurer-Vickie Newman. Other seniors are: Julia Shurte, Lynette Brown, Barbara Echols, Brenda Fuller, David Grohoski, Steve Heitzner, Judith Madras, Janice Pitts, Elizabeth Provost, Anthony Sullivan, and Myrna Beard.

What does the Honor Society do? They hold regular meetings, committee meetings for various projects, and have an initiation in March with an eveing program featuring a reception and speaker.

But the main purpose for the National Honor Society is to recognize academic achievement and participation in school activities, and to promote good character, service, leadership, and scholastic capability.

Northern's Literary, Spanish, German, French Clubs In Action!

The four clubs that feature masters in their work are the Literary Club, and the three foreign language clubs—Spanish, German, and French. All students in these clubs have to be masters of either a foreign language or a master of writing in English.

The three foreign language clubs are headed by: German, Mr. Keith Johnston; French, Mrs. Odessa Jackson; and Spanish, Mrs. Dolores Zale. In each of these clubs the main purpose was to increase the students' awareness of the various cultures and for them to realize the cultures' contributions.

The Literary Club, unlike foreign languages, concentrates on English and writing it creatively. Mrs. Sally Ebmyer and Miss Betty Harris provide students with an opportunity to use their talent, and imagination as well. In addition to just writing, the students have a chance to have their work published when they prepare the Aurora Borealis, a literary magazine.

Being chairman of the Human Relations Committee doesn't mean immunization from heavy work as Cindy Wamsley demonstrates. A history room becomes the school capitol when used for a student council meeting. Dave Grohoski, Sarina Blackman, Lynnette Austin, Mona Stiff and Danny Corey hear out an argument.

Sharp Teens Active In Student Council

The Student Council here at Flint Northern is to serve each individual. Student Council president John Banks says that the main purpose is to "build a bridge between administration demands and student needs." John Banks went to Van-Buren leadership competition and has been elected to serve on the Michigan Career Advisory Commission, and it might be added that he is the youngest member.

The Student Council itself, run by Mr. Frank Miller, had many activities throughout the year. They included a Rollerworld disco skating party, donut sales, a suggestion box, and distributing licenses for school activities.

John Banks concludes by saying that the student council is a useful and effective tool at the student's disposal.

Other officers are: Danny Corey, senior class president; Lynette Brown, secretary; and Barbara Echols, treasurer.

The members of the Math Club stand around with their advisor, Mrs. McFarlane. She is thinking of how to expand their club membership and how to raise more funds for them to go on different field trips dealing with Math. The Math club enters competitions and the purpose of their meeting is to expand their knowledge of Mathematics. Standing from Left to Right: Linda Eicher, Iris Pamphilis, Melissa Cunningham, Mrs. Jane McFarlane, Andy Farah, and Eugene Savage.

Reasoning Problems Is Key To Math Club

The Math Club figures to stay one of the top clubs at Northern, at least scholastically. Mrs. Jane McFarlane, in her second year as a sponsor, sees her club as a rather exclusive one. They toured the University of Michigan Science and Medical Centers, visited the computer center at the Flint Board of Education, and, in addition to these mind-expanding experiences, conducted bake sales.

Eugene Savage was president of the club, while Melissa Cunningham was secretary-treasurer, and Andy Farah was the systems specialist.

Ski Club Going Uphill

Northern's Ski Club, a club new to the school, seems to be gaining new interest and is thus, going uphill.

Mr. Donald Ullman, coach of the team, says that the club is to provide more opportunities for Northern students to socialize outside the classroom, while doing something they like-downhill skiing.

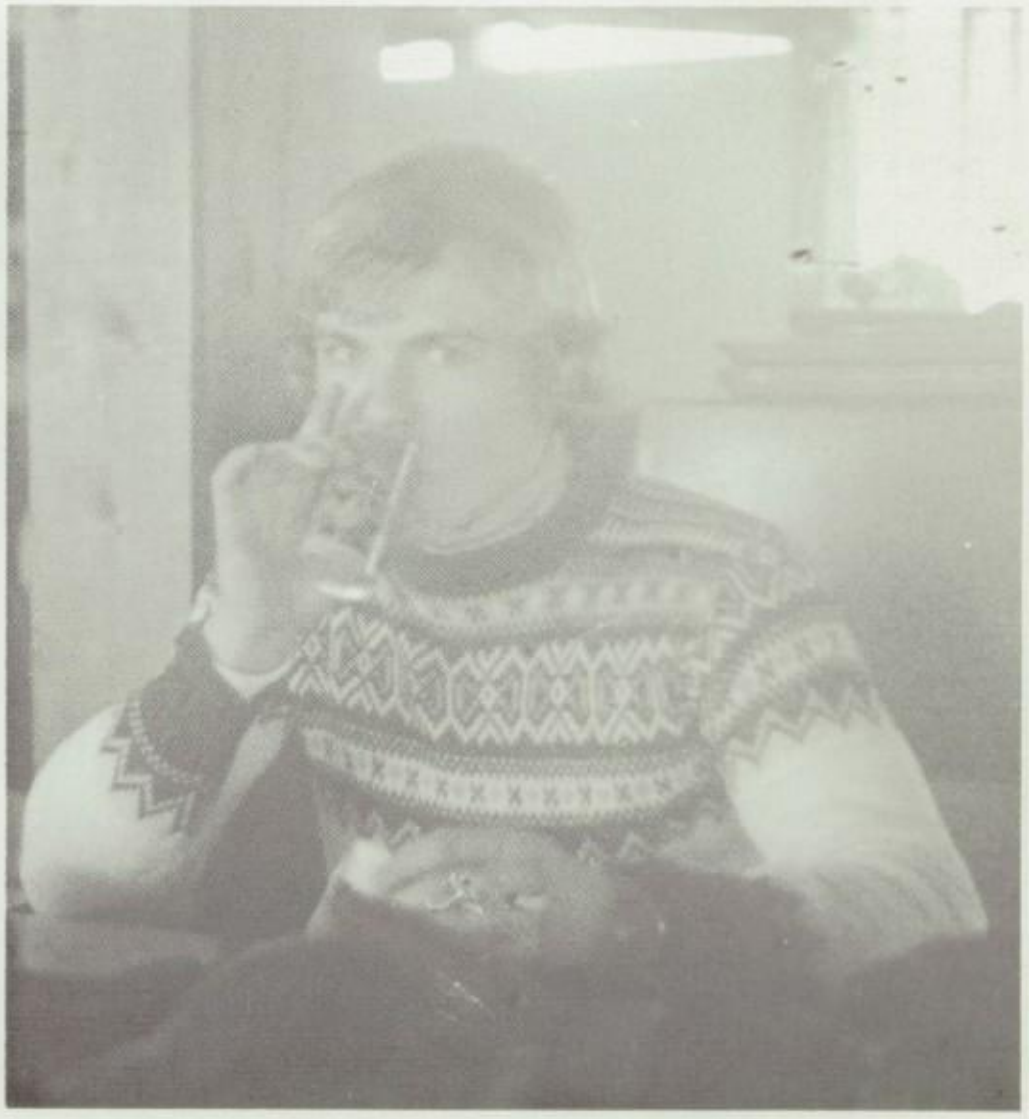
The Ski Club, which runs in January and February, has taken many ski trips. They have visited Crystal Mountain in Thompsonville, Boyne Highlands in Harbor Springs, and have trained and had intramural competition in cross country skiing at the IMA Brookwood Golf Course.

Jeff Fowler was president of the club, Scott Southwell was vice-president, and Steve Heitzner was the secretary.

Mr. Ullman states that the team's purpose from a philosophical standpoint is to set their goals in terms of what can be acheived and to live and work together.

Sam Morello has put in a hard day on the slopes. He knows skiing takes a lot more than talent, it takes an ability to withstand the bitter wind and the never ending battle of falling down and getting yourself up again. Connie Trinka and Scott McDonough wait for Scott Trinka to get up.

Connie Trinka puts her time in on the slopes here she is showing us two types of skiing stunts. In the air and alone this one is called Lone Flight. Connie is up to her knees in the snow and you may wonder if this is skiing, well it is and it is called Powder skiing.



Connie Trinka is here showing us what to do when you hit that hill. It may look easy but it is not all it looks to be. Good jump Connie. Don Mikolaizik knows that to put up with the weather and get a good day on the slopes in, he'd better have a good breakfast. Drink it down Don!!

Meeting Deadlines

The Journalism Department underwent many changes this year. This department consisted of the newspaper, the yearbook, and the Quill and Scroll, an honorary society for student journalists. All of these were supervised by Miss Dorothy Stradford.

Each edition of the North Wind, the school paper, was almost all written, typeset, and printed by the students in these journalism and graphic arts classes, because of graphic arts being a specialty class this year at Northern. This is the first year this has been done.

The Noroscope, or the yearbook, was increased in size and both layouts and bodycopy, as well as technique. Miss Stradford attended a National Scholastic Press Association Workshop at Columbia University in October of 1976, in which she obtained many ideas to improve this yearbook. She wishes to commend all of the staff members for "working so diligently."

The Quill and Scroll was an elite journalism society that had only 13 members.

Mr. Steve Mezaros taught photography to students so that there would be no problem there. Mr. John Prater and Mr. Bruce Wierman, supervisors of the graphic arts program, worked in cooperation with Miss Stradford to make this year a successful one, journalistically speaking. Tom Bielec took pictures of all Cross Country events.

Administrators Take On Many Tasks

The administration is made up of the principal, deputy-principal, assistant principal for students, counseling, instruction, and community education, and the staff specialists. All of these positions have one goal in mind—you. They take on numerous daily responsibilities that involve decisions that will reflect upon Northern as an opportunity to a better education.

The principal, Mr. Marvin Pryor, plans, coordinates, directs, and evaluates the instructional program, school activities, athletic program, the financial program, and the school building operation, as a whole. He also supervises the deputy and assistant principals, as well as all other staff members.

The deputy principal formulates the scheduling of classes and assignments of teachers. The assistant principal for students is responsible for student discipline and attendance and is solely in charge of security aides. The assistant principal for counseling directs the counseling and testing programs. The assistant principal of instruction deals with improving the instructional program and curriculum development and the assistant principal of community education implements the adult education and student enrichment programs. The staff specialist assists the assistant principal of students.

All of these positions seek the goal of providing career orientation, exploration, and skills commensurate with the students' potential and aspirations along with the understanding and acceptance of each individual in today's society.

Teachers Keep At Their Job

The teaching staff at Northern continues to do its job, and that is to teach. They have, throughout the school year, devoted their time to each student so he or she may have the ultimate opportunity at a better education. They have kept their pupils active with work, because as it is said, practice makes perfect.

They are the people who take the good times with the bad, share their experiences, evaluate each student with a grade, give tests, lecture, listen, write and above all, teach. They are the teachers.

There have been many new teachers this year at Northern as a result of the specialty program, and they have fit right in with Northern's previous teaching mold.

But teachers are only half of the faculty. The half is comprised of the secretarial staff, custodians, security aides, teacher aides and the various clerks. These many people join in to keep the school running and in order. Their responsibilities are numerous and only an all-out effort accounts for their fine maintenance.

Student Life

Tomorrow's Hopes Are Today's

Yesterday is already a dream and tomorrow is only a vision but today well lived makes every yesterday a dream of happiness and every tomorrow a vision of hope.

This theme seems to correspond with this year's exchange program being tried here in Flint and directly concerning Northern High School students. Many of the students are being bussed to the three other public high schools in an attempt to broaden their educational needs and to ready themselves for their future careers. Flint is the first city in Michigan to try the voluntary bussing program and, though receiving much criticism beforehand, the bussing plan seems to be running smoothly thus far.

The students here at Northern and also at the other three major high schools might sense the feeling of accomplishment because of the fact that not 25 years ago the first real bussing flare up took place and since then bussing has become a controversial issue throughout the nation. Yet it has been nothing but opportunity for the Flint students who have taken part and been bussed.

The students of Flint Northern see the bussing situation as yesterday's dream which has indeed become a dream of happiness and tomorrow's vision as being one of extreme hope.

It seems only fitting that Northern has opened the doors to future bussing programs and expanded future educational facilities.

Together We Learn and Share Spare Time

Northern viking marching band takes the field again. This year proved to be another spectacular year for the band. The band won trophies in the area of Best Percussion Section, Best all around Band, and First in Open Flight. All at the game are sure to have their eyes on the band. Northern students get themselves involved in many field trips during the school year. Work, Think, Smile, Learn Northern's library facility lets students get their work done. Teachers take their classes there for assignments. The library is open before and after school.

Vikings Travel Near And Far

Field trips are made throughout the year by different clubs and classes. This trip is made by the Michigan History class. The class went to Mackinaw Island to find more out about Michigan history. Landmarks like this one could be seen all over the island. Teachers accompany the students making sure everything runs smoothly as planned. The teachers that went on this trip were Mrs. Marlette, Mr. Johnston and his wife, and Mr. Thompson. Kathy Boyer, Jane McGaffan, Tony Tinnin, Lynn Haney, James Johnson and Lori Roach find a quiet place to eat their lunch while visiting the island. This trip was the first for the class and all who went agreed it was a GREAT success.

Going to football games proves to be one of the most exciting things to do in the fall of the school year. Some students show their Viking spirit by showing up for the games and cheering their team to victory. The Pep Club displays Viking support by creating colorful posters that warn opponents of Viking power.

'77 Proven To Be A New Beginning

This year for many has proven to be a time of hard work and never ending hustle. Seniors must put the finishing touches on their high school education. Judy Winters, Scott Miller, Joan Soloko, Dawn Weber, and Dan Corey all take a last look at what has been a school full of learning and activities. What the future holds no one can really say, we can only hope it is full of happiness.

Like all things, the school year has come to an end. And the 76-77 year has proven to be one of excitement, fun, participation, and new experience.

True, the Viking spirit was always present, but a whole system was tried as the debut exchange program has proven to be a total success not only at Northern, but throughout the Flint area. The students have learned new things and met new people which may one day have some bearing upon their future lives.

Also, there have been many staff changes. Mr. Marvin Pryor was appointed new principal. Many new teachers and administrators who were transferred to Northern have done nothing less than a splendid job.

Northern remained a unified institution despite what could have been a difficult transition.

Sandy!
Hope you have a good senior year next year.
Good luck in whatever you do.

Sandy -

This year has been so much different than our years at Longfellow. Skipping alot - parties, just plain not getting up in the morning.

At first when I was in ohio it was so great when you'd coel me. You guys would always be so messed up. But I was so glad you called - ran up some phone bills too.

Then when I moved back so much to catch up on - so little time to waste on trying to catch up. It was fun staying at Nelis - the fights & the good times. Then --- your house - wow. That was fun.

Anyway now is now & your having a great time - I can tell. All the boys - your Rev. Your really livin it up in N.S. aren't you.

Why don't you call me more often?

I hope your future is all that you want it to be & please be careful Sandy. I worry about you.

I hope you come & see me this summer.

Love Ya, "79"

Sandy.
To a very nice girl - I met this year. Stay sweet

PS.

Sandy,
It's really been alot of fun getting to know you this year.
I always have liked flirts, becaus I am one too. It was fun talking and drinking with you at the KA. Good luck,
I'm sure your friendliness will carry you through.
Have a great life.

Love ya,

Sandy -
to a new girl
in our 2nd hour.
we really have had fun last year and this year and hopefully
next year too.
have fun this summer and stay cool

Love
Jon

Sandy its really been alot of fun knowing you. I'm glad I went to that basketball game or maybe I would have never met you. And them my party that was alot of fun too. well this Summer I sure hope we see alot of each other, And maybe next year we can be in some classes together. Good Luck always
